Russians Indicate Four-Power Talks Point of Blockade

Allies Start Inquiry to Learn Extent of Russian Rail Repairs

BERLIN, July 5 (AP).—The Russians tonight put out their broadest hint yet that their 17-day Berlin blockade is aimed at starting new four-power talks on Germany.

The Soviet-licenced Nacht-Express said if successful talks are held "the situation in Berlin will be automatically clarified." It added "The Western Powers must again take up the conversations on Germany where they left them at Potsdam."

Allied observers found this hard to reconcile with the Soviet claim that technical repairs on the Helmstedt rail line caused this vital link to Western Berlin to be shut down.

Nevertheless, United States officials disclosed they had started their own private inquiry to find out just what repairs, if any, the Russians had undertaken on the railway.

As the Americans tried to find out about the railroad situation, Allied flyers continued to pour supplies into Berlin. Worsening weather cut down the American air effort but the R.A.F. maintained its heavy volume, making 205 flights into Berlin's Gatow Field. Of these, 160 carried food for the Germans.

Britain plans to use Sunderland flying boats to increase the tonnage being flown to Allied nationals and some 2,000,000 Germans in the western sectors of Berlin.

There were hints today that the Russians planned a new protest over alleged violations of flying rules in the corridor being used by the American and British planes. Soviet officials have made approximately 30 similar protests in the last three months.

One Western Allied official said: "The Russians have been doing everything possible through representations in an effort to control and cut down the steady air traffic in Berlin's lifeline to the West."

ECONOMIC PARALYSIS

Despite the giant air lift Berlin still faced economic paralysis by the Soviet ground blockade. The shipment of coal shipments from the west already has decreased by half Western Berlin's industrial output. The Western Allies are reported to be setting up a plan to fly coal into the city.

Mississippi Power Tieup Called Off

ST. LOUIS, July 5 (AP).—A strike of electrical workers which would have paralyzed industry throughout a large Mississippi Valley area was temporarily averted tonight when the men voted to extend the strike deadline until next Monday. The strike was to have taken effect at 8 a.m. E.D.T. tomorrow.

The strike delaying action was taken at a two-hour meeting of members of the Operating Engineers Local 148 (A.F.L.) hastily called by union leaders.

Should the strike take place, it would deprive the company of about 75 per cent of its generating capacity and place St. Louis and the nearby area on emergency power basis.

The Union Electric Company of Missouri was to cut power to non-essential users at midnight if no agreement was in sight.

An estimated 500,000 persons would be made idle if the strike develops.

Fire Destroys Two Island Sawmills

FIRE has struck Vancouver Island sawmills twice in 36 hours, causing damage near $2,500,000. Upper photo shows Gibson Brothers' sawmill at Tahsis, near Zeballos, destroyed early yesterday morning with loss estimated at between $400,000 and $500,000. Lower photo shows Western Forest Industries' mill at Honeymoon Bay on Lake Cowichan, razed Saturday night with a loss of $2,000,000. Both companies will rebuild. Western Forest Industries have laid off all but 30 of 500 Honeymoon Bay millworkers. Gibson Brothers will employ their 200 men at Tahsis in rebuilding, scheduled to start immediately. See story on Page 12.

Railways, Unions Meet Making Every Effort To Avoid Tieup July 15

Canadian Brotherhood Expects "Something Decisive" During Day

MONTREAL, July 5 (CP).—The railways and representatives of 18 international brotherhoods moved into direct negotiations today after four days of mediation proceedings and Frank H. Hall, chairman of a committee representing 122,000 employees said "we are exhausting all possibilities" to avert a threatened July 15 rail strike.

A meeting between the railroads and the negotiation committee held this afternoon "to discuss wages" adjourned early tonight until Wednesday morning.

Mr. Hall declined to say what was the basis for the new discussions and a spokesman for the mediation board, headed by Mr Justice J. C. A. Cameron of the Exchequer Court of Canada, said there would "be no statement tonight." The spokesman had previously said there would be no comment from the board while its sittings continued.

Meanwhile, a Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.C.L.) negotiating committee planned to meet here tomorrow and a C.B.R.E official said there would probably be "something decisive."

Mediation proceedings involving the 28,000-member C.B.R.E. ended some time ago while the international brotherhoods had set July 15 as a strike date the C.B.R.E. had taken no such action.

Membership of both groups of unions have voted in favor of striking if no satisfactory settlement of their wage dispute with the railways is reached.

Both groups asked last Winter for a 35-cent hourly wage increase. Conciliation boards in majority reports recommended seven-cent increases, minority reports calling for 20-cent wage boosts. Mediation efforts so far have failed to arrive at a figure at which railways and unions could agree.

All of the rumored figures, ranging from the seven cents recommended by conciliation boards and accepted by the railways, met with denials from union officials and a curt "no statement" from mediation board spokesmen. There has been no comment from the railways.

Steel Mines Readied After Lull

No Workers Expected on Job

PITTSBURGH, July 5 (AP).—Maintenance crews entered the country's "captive" mines shortly before midnight tonight to prepare them for tomorrow's 6 a.m. shifts that no one expected to show up.

The ten-day mine vacation ends tomorrow for 400,000 soft coal miners but 40,000 who work in steel company owned "captives" were expected to obey the mine tradition of "no contract, no work."

The steel companies refused to initial the new United Mine Worker agreement covering the other 360,000 U.M.W. members because of its union shop provision.

Big signs posted in the captive pits announced the mines open for work. They said the workers would be extended all provisions of the unsigned pact except the union shop. These included a $1-a-day pay increase and the doubled ten-cent-a-ton welfare fund royalty.

The steel firms contend the union shop, which requires that a worker join the union within a specified time after he is hired, violates the Taft-Hartley Act.

BULLETIN

Explodes

SEASIDE PARK, N.J., July 6 (Tuesday) (AP).—An unidentified trawler exploded two miles off the New Jersey coast today, and U.S. Coast Guard rescue crews said they found the vessel's wreckage but no survivors. The Coast Guard said the vessel probably would carry a normal complement of 15 men.

Says Mill Fire Not Sabotage

Possibility of sabotage in the second of two major Vancouver Island sawmill fires was ruled out yesterday by officials of one of the companies concerned.

A spokesman at the Vancouver head office of Gibson Brothers said there is no suspicion of foul play in the blaze which levelled the company's mill and powerhouse at Tahsis, Vancouver Island, early Monday morning.

Saturday night a blaze destroyed Western Forest Industries' mill at Honeymoon Bay on Lake Cowichan.

Both fires started in the mill boiler room.

"Coincidence," said the Gibson Brothers spokesman when asked whether he saw any connection between the two disasters less than 36 hours apart.

Truce Extension Efforts Said Opposed by Arabs

CAIRO, July 5 (AP).—Count Folke Bernadotte sought Jewish and Arab agreement today on extending the Palestine truce and proposed the demilitarization of Jerusalem and Haifa port.

The United Nations mediator took these steps as both the Jews and Arabs were authoritatively reported to have rejected his partition plan for a permanent Palestine peace.

The four-week truce arranged by Bernadotte ends Friday. He said if the Jews and Arabs accept extension in principle, discussions will be held as to its length.

An Egyptian Cabinet source here said Arab leaders were studying the truce extension request but a majority among them were opposed. This was in line with the statement last week of Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, Arab League secretary-general, that a truce was contrary to Arab interests.

Bernadotte appeared hopeful he would gain the extention and obtain conditions under which peace talks could be continued.

The general atmosphere for his renewed efforts was not encouraging. Baghdad newspaper carried editorials today saying continued negotiations were a waste of time. The Jews hoped for peace but prepared for war. They raised the draft age for the army from 35 to 41 and tried out new searchlights purchased for the defence of Tel Aviv.

Under the eyes of United Nations observers 2,200 Jews arrived in Haifa from Cyprus. Another 2,000 were on their way—the vanguard of 20,000 whom Israeli officials hope to get into Israel as soon as feasible.

Bernadotte said United Nations guards would be used for policing the Jerusalem and Haifa areas.

Mill on Coast Will Cost $30,000,000

Erection of a "high alpha" pulp mill entailing ultimate investment of more than $30,000,000 at Watson Island, B.C., will start immediately, according to company officials.

The Columbia Cellulose Company is constructing the mill to fill the demand for pulp cellulose, basic material in the manufacture of textiles and plastics.

Located near Prince Rupert, the mill when in full operation in two years' time will employ some 1,000 men. Expected production capacity will be 200 tons of highly purified cellulose per day.

Canada, Western Union And U.S. in Defence Talks

OTTAWA, July 5 (CP).—The Government disclosed today that the United States is initiating "exploratory" discussions with the defence-pooling countries of Europe's Western Union—talks which may lead to formation of an anti-Soviet Atlantic pact.

The discussions open in Washington tomorrow and mark the first, long-awaited step towards a security arrangement with the five Western Union powers, who already are pledged to defend their democratic way of life against any aggressor, with arms if necessary.

Announcing Canadian acceptance of an invitation to join the talks the External Affairs Department said the discussions "at this stage, at least, will be purely exploratory and on the diplomatic, not the Governmental level." Hume Wrong, Canadian Ambassador to Washington, will represent this country.

The other countries taking part will be Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, who bound themselves at Brussels, March 17, to a military, political and economic treaty which laid the cornerstone for an even wider European union. They will be represented by their envoys in Washington.

Both Canada and the United States, through Prime Minister Mackenzie King and President Truman, gave quick endorsation to the Brussels pact when it first was announced, but today's announcement brought the first concrete substance to their approval.

LONDON STATEMENT

The Canadian announcement coincided with a statement in London indicating Canadian-American "association" with Western Union defence plans.

There, in response to a Parliamentary question about arrangements for "American armed aid" to Western Europe, State Minister McNeil told the Commons:

"There will undoubtedly be a constant exchange of views in Washington between the Governments of the United States, the United Kingdom, the other parties of the Brussels Treaty and Canada concerning Western European security arrangements, and United States and Canadian association with them."

In Washington, meantime, authoritative sources reported that diplomatic talks between the State Department and the envoys of the Western Union powers would open here tomorrow.

City Council Urges Halt To Price Rise

Immediate and "drastic" steps to halt rising prices and effect a substantial reduction in present prices, was urged of the Dominion Government yesterday by City Council.

A motion, introduced by Ald. Dr J. D. Hunter, was passed calling attention of the Government to the "increasing alarm amongst all classes of citizens at the ever-mounting cost of living."

The motion urged that "immediate and drastic steps be taken not only to curb rising prices but to provide for a substantial reduction in the present cost of all commodities, more especially items of food."

5,000 Engage In Peiping Riot

PEIPING, July 5 (AP).—Nearly 5,000 Chinese students wrecked the city council's offices and battled with police today in a riot in which five persons were listed as slain. A score were severely injured.

Chinese reporters said four of the dead were students and one a bystander.

"No Political Office" Repeats Eisenhower

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP).—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said tonight he "could not accept nomination for any public office."

He said in a statement that he "will not, at this time, identify myself with any political party and could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contests."

Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, set forth his views in a memorandum to Robert Harron, director of the university's division of public relations.

He said that his views "with respect to my proper course of duty are still identical with those presented in the letter I wrote on January 23, 1948."

At that time he said in a letter to a New Hampshire Republican backing him for the party's Presidential nomination that "I am not available for, and could not accept nomination to, high political office."

Eisenhower, himself, was not present when tonight's statement was handed out.

In his statement he said that he would continue "subject to the pleasure of the university trustees" to perform his duties as president of the university.

The memorandum was distributed by Harron to dozens of reporters and photographers who crowded his fourth floor office in the university's journalism building.

Eisenhower's memorandum to Harron said:

"I know that your office has for some days been overburdened with innumerable queries concerning my intentions. My decisions and earnest convictions concerning possible personal connection with this year's political contests were given to the public several months ago, but it now appears that there has arisen a question as to whether or not I have changed my position.

"Profoundly touched by the renewed suggestion that I could satisfactorily fill high public office, my views with respect to my proper course of duty are still identical with those presented in the letter I wrote on January 23, 1948."

Carole Landis Found Dead

LOS ANGELES, July 5 (AP).—Beauteous Carole Landis, 29-year-old film actress, was found dead in her Pacific Palisades home today. Capt. of Detectives Emmet Jones said "This is definitely a suicide."

The detective said the actress who recently sued to divorce her fourth husband, had been dead for several hours, possibly 12, when the body was discovered by Film Actor Rex Harrison and a maid. He said she left a note written on both sides of a single sheet of paper.

Jones said the note was addressed to Miss Landis' mother, Mrs. Clara Landis, and said in part: "I'm sorry to do such a thing."

Investigating officers said a bottle which they believed contained sleeping tablets was found in Miss Landis' bedroom.

Friends said Miss Landis had been suffering from a recurrent attack of malarial fever incurred during a tour of overseas fronts during the war.

Detective Herbert W. Brittingham said Harrison and Miss Landis' maid, Fannie May Bolden, discovered the body. Brittingham said Harrison related that he telephoned the Landis home about noon and the maid told him she had knocked at Miss Landis' bedroom door but had been unable to arouse her.

Harrison said he went to Miss Landis' home about 2 p.m. today and with the maid discovered the body.

Because of her illness production on two films, which she had signed recently to do for Eagle-Lion Productions, had been held up.

Highway Pledged 77 Years Ago

City Council went back 77 years to the horse-and-buggy days yesterday to think up reasons why there should be a good Trans-Canada highway for automobiles.

Aldermen were told by City Solicitor A. J. Patton that one of the terms of British Columbia's entry into Confederation in 1871 was that the Dominion Government build a through road to Vancouver Island.

Promise of the highway was in the terms of union as embodied in the report of an arbitration headed by Lord Carnarvon, which was formed after the original Act of Union was set aside, council heard.

"The highway is most important to British Columbia and the Province is entitled to it," said Mayor Percy E. George.

A resolution on a Trans-Canada highway from the Calgary City Council, which started the discussion, was laid on the table and Mr Patton instructed to prepare a resolution in view of the new knowledge.

Mayor George said the Calgary resolution was turned down by the conference of Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities in Halifax recently because it dealt only with the Dominion Government and roads are the property of the provinces.

He said a new resolution was passed by the convention asking the Federal and Provincial Governments to co-operate in an investigation.

Flood Waters Damaged 1,973 Houses In Fraser Valley, Early Report Shows

PRELIMINARY estimates by the Fraser Valley Rehabilitation Commission show 1,973 houses damaged by flood waters.

Analysis of a report submitted to Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. MacDonald by W. L. Macken and Col. d'Arcy Baldwin gives the number of homes damaged as follows: Chilliwack, 340; Lytton, 30; Matsqui, 355; Langley, 130; Surrey, 15; Agassiz, 375; Harrison Hot Springs, 125; Maple Ridge, 48; Pitt Meadows, 2; Coquitlam, 3; Port Coquitlam, 5; Burnaby 45.

At a conservative estimate of $500 each, this would mean an expenditure of nearly $1,000,000 for repairs.

No report has yet been submitted on the number of barns and other farm outbuildings or business premises which have been damaged, or the extent of crop damage.

Food Arrives by Air for Berlin

CIVILIAN employees of Templehof Airport, in the U.S. sector of Berlin, load army trucks with food flown into the German capital by a shuttle service of U.S. planes. The air route was resorted to when a food crisis was precipitated by Russia's blockade of the city's land-transport planes. Air service is on a 24-hour schedule. Gen. Lucius D. Clay has described the present situation in Germany as "very serious" and said that the feeding of the western section of Berlin was assured. He also said that the new C-54 aircraft sent to Berlin from the U.S. would be employed to bring coal into the former German capital.

Deal for City Hall Sale Appears Officially Dead

Victoria's deal to get rid of the old City Hall and build a new one from advance taxes paid by a syndicate proposing to build a hotel on the site, appears officially dead.

City Council decided yesterday to return to the syndicate a $20,000 deposit—less expenses incurred by the city in negotiations.

Expense of putting a private bill before the Legislature and incidental costs amount to $377.12, council was told.

The syndicate was to build a hotel on the site and pay the city an advance on yearly fixed taxes, enough to build a new city hall at an estimated cost of $350,000. The city put through a private bill to allow leasing of the site for 99 years but the syndicate claimed that the bill was amended by the Government and did not include necessary terms of the deal.

Legal question as to whether the city could fulfill the terms under existing laws has been under consideration for some time, ever since the syndicate asked for return of the $20,000 deposit, made as evidence of good faith.

One opinion is that an existing law gives the city power to go through with the deal for a period of 30 years and that the private bill merely gave permission to lease the site for 99 years.

United States interests backed the syndicate and it is understood that restrictions on imports from the United States, started when negotiations were on, interfere seriously with the syndicate's plans.

The city is believed to be ready to go through with the deal but is returning the deposit because there appears to be no assurance that the hotel would be built.

Recommendation to return the $20,000 deposit less the $377 expenses was made by the finance committee after discussion with the city's new city hall committee.

Esther Pollock, of Brooklyn, N.Y., drops first dime as first dime-gulping turnstile is unveiled at Times Square, marking New York City rapid transit fare-boost going into effect. Transit Clerk Alvin Coldwell unveils new turnstile. Crowd on hand for passing of nickel fare cheered at announcement that Esther and Alvin were to wed Saturday, and gave them big hand.

Victory by Allies in Berlin Would Justify Cost of Siege

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, July 5 (CP)—The present squabble over the four-power administration of Berlin has reached a point where it can be settled only by top-level diplomatic discussions.

Some go as far as to say the present crisis is the Russian's way of forcing an international discussion of Germany's future on Soviet terms. The question that remains is: "Who is going to make the first move?"

As far as the local situation in Berlin is concerned, the Western powers have refused to yield an inch of territory despite obstacles raised by the Russians in maintaining supplies through the usual channels.

"Steps that have been taken recently to use the physical starving of 2,500,000 people in Berlin to try to influence the Western powers in their treatment of the Germans and to try to force us out are steps that we are unable to accept," Foreign Secretary Bevin said in a speech Sunday.

BEVIN STAND

"I would no more accept starvation . . . as an instrument of policy than I would allow a lockout to defeat us in this country."

The way Britain and the United States organized the air lift which is moving hundreds of tons daily into Berlin is said to have impressed the Germans with Western determination.

Bevin promised it "will grow in strength as the days go on and the weapon of starvation will not be allowed to succeed."

One grain of hope for the optimists is the fact that the Russians have stressed that the suspension of road and rail privileges to Berlin is due to repair work. If they were able to reach agreement with the West and resume traffic they could do so without loss of face merely by saying the repairs are completed.

STEP TO SETTLEMENT

The Weekly Economist said in an editorial that if the Western powers had worked out a plan for staying in Berlin "that will work even if the Russians do everything they can short of overt war to frustrate it" then the present "siege of Berlin, costly though it may be, will not only be diplomatic victory, it will be a definite step forward toward agreed and respectful settlement with the Russians."

Observers agree that Russians' decision to embarrass the Allies in Berlin—nearly accomplished due to the city's location in the Russian zone—was a counter move to the fusion of the Western zones.

Russia and the Western powers are vying with one another to capture German loyalty and respect. It is a see-saw battle with both sides jealous of the least trend in the opponent's favor.

Plane Crash Fatal to Three

PRINCE GEORGE, July 5 (CP)—Yvonne Strachan, the 16-year-old Toronto heroine of Saturday's plane crash here, will be the number one witness tomorrow night at the inquest.

Yvonne, a waitress, rescued Pilot Roy Archer when the light monoplane crashed into nearby Six Mile Lake, killing Mrs. Peggy McLean, 36, and her two sons, Sammy, 4, and Donald, 7.

The girl, who came west from Toronto in May, was almost in the path of the plummeting craft when it plunged into ten feet of water, 200 yards offshore.

Fishing at the time, she quickly rowed to the wrecked plane and dragged Pilot Archer into the boat. The pilot now is in hospital in "good" condition.

A Civil Aeronautics Board inquiry has been ordered.

Moves to Halt Rebels in Peru

LIMA, Peru, July 5 (AP).—The Government suspended constitutional guarantees tonight in the wake of revolt by the army garrison at Jaliaca in Southeastern Peru.

An official announcement said the Government has "taken necessary measures to re-establish public order." It said the inspector-general of the army has ordered the rebel garrison to surrender and has informed them that the army is loyal to the Government.

There was no indication as to the reason for the revolt, which occurred Sunday night.

English is the official language of Liberia.

Parade, Colorful Riders Open Calgary Stampede

CALGARY, July 5 (CP)—Canada's greatest annual Western show, the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede, opened with a whoop and holler today. The stampeding of bovines from corrals in the wild cow milking contest in front of a packed grandstand set the pace for the rest of the events to follow.

In short order, cowboys were biting the dust in bucking contests that brought roars from the spectators. Officials said they believed today's crowd would surpass the record first-day crowd of 64,696 set in 1946.

Five hundred Canadian and American cowboys paid a moving tribute to the late Jack Dillon, arena director of the stampede for 25 years, who died last Fall. His favorite saddle horse, escorted by former cowboy champions, was led into the arena with the owner's cowboy boots in reverse position in the stirrups.

TOUGH HORSES

Canadian cowboys drew some tough bucking horses for the opening events, with United States riders expected to show their stuff tomorrow. Majority of the United States riders are expected to arrive here later tonight by rail and air after taking part in July 4 rodeos in the States.

A mammoth parade of Indians, cowboys and floats passed in review before more than 60,000 excited Calgarians and out-of-town visitors to open the six-day Western event.

Marching to 20 Alberta and British Columbia bands, the parade required more than an hour to pass any point on the 25-block route. Scarlet-coated members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police headed the procession.

Stampede officials disclosed today that 820 entries had been received for the various cowboy events, including 47 for the North American bucking horse riding contest with saddle—the premier stampede event.

Largest entry is in the wild steer decorating competition with 86 riders competing. Eighty-four cowboys are seeking the North American calf-roping championship.

Six heats will be required each night to run off the famous chuck-wagon races that have drawn an entry of 26 outfits.

The week-long stampede ends with presentation of championship trophies and a big fireworks display Saturday night.

Urges Action By Government In Ship Trade

OTTAWA, July 5 (CP)—Government action to facilitate ship construction in Canada was urged today before the technical section of the Canadian Shipbuilding and Ship Repairing Association.

Richard Lowery of Montreal, chairman of the section's executive committee, told its semi-annual m[illegible] high wage rates are responsible for the fact that ship construction costs in Canada are higher than in Europe.

Are Canadian shipyard workers and Canadian shipyards to go out of business for want of a Canadian shipbuilding policy to combat low European wages?" Mr. Lowery asked.

While he said the Government was to be congratulated upon setting up the Canadian Maritime Commission, he asked what was to be the next step. Many countries in Europe and South America had taken steps to develop their merchant marines with economical ships but so far Canada had failed to do this.

For instance, he said, Sweden was developing a fast and economical merchant fleet with Government aid. The Swedish Government facilitated new building by allowing accelerated depreciation for taxation purposes.

Canada, said Mr. Lowery, should "wake up and do likewise." He observed that Brazil, Holland, Argentina and Colombia had come to Canada for modern ships, but that Canadian shipowners were not ordering new vessels built in the Dominion.

Geologist Safe After Rescue In Northland

EDMONTON, July 5 (CP)—A remote Northland rescue which saw a stranded boatman supplied from the air while trappers toiled overland and by water to reach him, ended tonight when Geologist Robert Parry of Oklahoma reached Fort Nelson, B.C. The arrival of Parry and his rescuers was reported by Northwest Air Command.

Parry thus completed a four-day Dunedin River trip three weeks after leaving Mile 363 of the Alaska Highway for Fort Nelson.

Missing more than a week before R.C.A.F. search planes found him, it took would-be rescuers another week to reach him. He had been stranded on a rocky ledge overlooking the river.

Parry was stranded on the ledge when his dinghy capsized while he was travelling by river from Mile 363 of the Alaska Highway to Nelson Forks. He was trapped in a gorge from which he was unable to climb.

R.C.A.F. officials released details of his rescue today after week-long efforts. A 15-mile overland hike, a canoe trip to Nelson Forks, B.C., and a plane trip to take an aerial bearing all played a part in the R.C.A.F.-supervised operation.

Trapper Charles Jensen of Fort Nelson, B.C., who early last week set out from Nelson Forks with two companions to search for Parry, finally led to his rescue.

When Jensen and his companions had failed by Saturday to locate Parry, the trapper returned to Nelson Forks where he obtained an R.C.A.F. plane. He found Parry by air and directed his companions, still on the ground, to the missing man.

The trio travelled to Fort Nelson by trail and boat.

Yugoslavia Said Blocking Frontier

VIENNA, July 5 (Reuters).—Yugoslavia is setting up permanent iron and concrete road blocks on the Austro-Yugoslav border, frontier watch towers are manned day and night, and new machine-gun posts have been installed between the towers, reports from British security units in Styria said today.

These measures have almost completely stopped the flow of refugees crossing the Styrian [illegible]

Death Toll 62 In Dominion For Week-End

By The Canadian Press

On the highway, on the water and in the air death rode with Canadians during the long Dominion Day week-end.

A Canadian Press compilation today showed that 62 persons lost their lives since the four-day celebration started last Thursday.

But during a comparable four-day period last year, the Saturday-to-Tuesday Dominion Day observance, the total was far higher, 98.

Drownings took 29 lives as hot weather over most of Canada lured holidayers to the beaches. Highway deaths numbered 21, two plane crashes, one in Northern British Columbia and another in the Ontario wilds, killed seven persons altogether. Two men were shot to death near Riviere du Loup, Que., and a train mishap and a fall each caused a death.

Since Friday night 35 deaths have been reported.

Jean Marc Labbe, 22-year-old son of a minister without portfolio in Quebec's Duplessis cabinet, was drowned last night in Oyster Lake, seven miles from the Eastern Townships town of Thetford, Que.

Don McCluckie, of Vancouver, was drowned when swept under by the Fraser River, and Emile Ledit, 22, drowned in a remote Manitoba lake north of The Pas.

Mrs. Andrew Grayson, of Edmonton, was crushed under a car, and Robert E. Carson, 24, of Vancouver, and John Carpenter, 19, of Bellingham, Wash., were victims of separate auto crashes.

Man Beats Plane In Tug-of-War

TILLAMOOK, Ore., July 5 (AP)—July Fourth celebrants put a modern twist to the old-time holiday tug-of-war contest today when a man held an airplane to a standstill twice in three attempts.

Husky, 235-pound George Blum, 41-year-old logger who stands six feet, six inches of muscle, came out victor over the 55-horsepower airplane and Pilot Walter Herd in the event.

G. Langtry Bell Dies Aged 60

VANCOUVER, July 5 (CP).—George Langtry Bell, 60, Vancouver businessman well known in British Columbia, died today after a brief illness.

Manager of Clarkson's Limited since 1940, he was recently elected president of the Canadian Association of Radio and Appliance Dealers. He had been an active Rotarian and a member of the Retail Merchants' Association.

He is survived by his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Frank Kershaw of West Vancouver, and two sisters in England.

U.K. Sovereignty Unimpaired By Aid Cripps Assures Critics

LONDON, July 5 (CP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told Parliament today the sterling area gold and dollar reserves have dwindled to £473,000,000 ($1,792,000,000).

Spending of these last ditch reserves during the last six months which ended June 30 totaled £254,000,000. Some of the loss was regained by a £22,000,000 grant under the Marshall plan.

[illegible] bate in the House of Commons on the Marshall aid agreement. British representatives are to sign the accord in Washington Tuesday night.

Sir Stafford said with help of the European Recovery Program, "we hope to retain our reserves at about £600,000,000."

Some minor opposition has developed from the back benches to the European Recovery Program agreement. Two Independent Labor members have asked its rejection and called on Britain to start trade negotiations with Russia and other countries in Eastern Europe.

The Conservatives have announced they will not oppose the accord.

Sir Stafford, to allay fears the pact might endanger British sovereignty said:

"The United States negotiators have shown themselves most understanding and His Majesty's Government is satisfied that a form of agreement has emerged to which no valid objection can be taken.

"Facts prove that we could not hope to maintain either our present standard of living or our present level of production unless we were [illegible] side aid which has been so generously offered by the United States to Europe."

Collision in Air Brings Death To 39 Persons

LONDON, July 5 (CP).—The still smouldering wreckage of a burned-out R.A.F. transport plane and a Scandinavian Skymaster today marked the death scene of 39 victims of the worst disaster in the history of British civil aviation.

The planes collided in midair, near suburban Northolt Airport, during a Sunday afternoon rainstorm and, gyrating madly with parts of wings and tail assemblies torn off, plunged to earth a mile and a half apart. The R.A.F. York transport crashed in a wooded area known as "Madness Hill."

Among those killed was Sir Edward Gent, successor to Sir Malcolm MacDonald, as British High Commissioner for the Federation of Malaya. Sir Edward was the lone passenger in the York, carrying six crew members. The Skymaster carried 25 passengers and seven crew members. There were no survivors.

The wreckage was strewn over a two-mile area. Eyewitnesses told of a great explosion heard above the clouds—the ceiling was no more than 400 feet—and of further explosions when the crippled craft struck the ground.

Trucker Faces Murder Count

RIVIERE DU LOUP, Que., July 5 (CP)—A coroner's jury here tonight found Maurice Lebel, 32-year-old backwoods trucker, criminally responsible for the Dominion Day slaying of Louis Philippe Breton and Wilfred Dumais in a lonely dirt road ten miles east of here.

Lieut. Martin Healey of the provincial police said Lebel would be arraigned here tomorrow before Judge Alexandre Michaud on a

Stage Ready In Yugoslavia For Showdown

LONDON, July 5 (AP).—Yugoslav Communists appeared today to have set the stage for an Eastern European showdown on the policies of Premier Marshal Tito, now in disfavor with Moscow.

Tanjug, official Yugoslav news agency, said all Communist parties have been invited to attend the fifth congress of Yugoslavia's Communist Party in Belgrade July 21.

The agency's announcement came only a few hours after a Bulgarian newspaper bluntly called upon Yugoslavs to say whether they plan to remain in the Communist camp or seek partnership with the West.

It was a question which also puzzled the rest of Europe. While Tito's Government engaged in disputes with some of the other powers in the Russian sphere, Yugoslav newspapers kept thumping the drums in praise of Russia.

Yet it was the Soviet-dominated Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) which turned the heat on Tito by accusing him and his lieutenants of straying away from Marxism and embarking on a nationalist, anti-Russian policy. The Yugoslav Communist Party's central committee has denied the accusations.

Hundreds of Youngsters Entertained on Greater Victoria Playgrounds

—Colonist Photos.

Girls Are Expert at Berry Picking; Show Up Inexperienced, Aching Male

By GORDON HOBSON

The berry season is only half over—if you want some easy money, why not go picking? I did.

I set off with a light heart. The sun was shining and it felt good to be alive.

On the way out to the fields, in the "Berry-bus," was a mixed crowd ranging from teen-agers to the old-timers. All looked very fit and sunburned and a jocular atmosphere pervaded the humidity of the bus.

"First time?" the woman seated beside me asked.

"This is my third week," she said. "had to have a rest in between. Ached in every bone."

I still wanted to pick $10 worth of berries.

Arriving at the berry farm, one was impatient to start. All those strawberries! All those dollars!

"Start down that row there," the farmer said, handing me a carrier containing six one-pound boxes.

The ground was wet with dew and snakes constantly played hide-and-seek through the plants.

The silence was broken several times by screams from some of the young females as they saw a snake, or in some cases, sat on one.

Halfway through filling the first carrier — two carriers make one crate—my back began to ache, and long before I had completed my carrier, a young teen-age girl walked to the weighing shed, box full, and returned with an empty one.

This kept happening all day long. The faster I went, the faster the girls went.

"Never beat a woman at berry picking," the farmer said dryly.

Mid-afternoon, the sun at its hottest, I ached all over. Someone had said earlier on that pickers could eat all the berries they wished. I didn't even want to touch them. And I was falling farther and farther behind my fellow pickers, with one exception. A tubby young schoolgirl just sat and ate all day long.

Finally it was time to pack up. Although I worked hard, most of the girls earned twice as much.

"How many strawberries per acre do you get," I asked the farmer.

"Good crop yields around 4 tons," he answered.

Losses incurred through people eating the berries, sitting on them, and just not seeing them, are high and farmers allow for a daily loss of $10 to $15.

A chorus of shouts announced the arrival of the bus, and looking around as in the morning—a different sight met the eye. Hands were stained a dark purple with strawberry juices. Hot, tired and dusty-looking faces—no one was singing; the harmonica player, a young lad about 14, was fast asleep.

What about loganberries? I'll tell you more about that next week—if I can find someone to tell me first.

Club Discovers Horseshoes Popular Game

The newly-formed Oak Bay Horseshoe Pitching Club is proving very popular, according to President John Dreen.

Already 16 members have joined and are turning out to practice at the playing grounds next to the Oak Bay fire hall.

Membership dues are being held to a low minimum. Those interested in joining are asked to phone Secretary Victor Pratley at E 4056.

Starting on July 12 at 7 p.m., Monday and Thursday evenings will be club member nights for practice and competition. All other nights during the week, including Sunday, the grounds will be available for the general use of members, prospective members or persons interested in the sport.

At present, membership is being confined to residents of Oak Bay and municipal employees.

Victoria Driver Goes to Jail

William D. Robertson pleaded guilty in police court yesterday of driving while intoxicated and was sentenced to seven days in jail by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

Robertson's licence was suspended for six months.

Fruit Pickers Said Scarce

Acute shortage of orchard and berry pickers on the Lower Mainland was reported yesterday by Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam.

It had been necessary, for the first time, he said, to transport strawberry pickers from New Westminster to Abbotford, and on most days there were not sufficient available.

Move to bring in pickers from the Prairie Provinces has started, but results have not been satisfactory. More than 1,000 outside pickers were needed at Yarrow.

Grave shortages of labor are also reported from the Okanagan, Mr. Putnam said. The normal movement of pickers from the Prairies had not developed this year.

He appealed for registration of pickers, pointing out a substantial fruit harvest was more important than usual this year because of losses from the floods.

100 Fighting Forest Fire

A large forest fire at Sugar Lake in the Kamloops district is being fought by 100 men, the British Columbia Forest Service reported yesterday.

Elsewhere in the province there were no new large outbreaks and conditions generally were reported favorable with cool cloudy weather reducing the hazard in most areas.

The big fire at Bear Lake on Vancouver Island is reported under control. At Port Harvey six inches of rain over the week-end aided in bringing the fire under control.

CAMDEN, N.J., July 5 (CP)—No crowd gathered to watch a three-alarm fire at Monsanto Chemical Company's Pine Street plant.

Monsanto, through the war, became known as a manufacturer of high explosives. Fire-fans boycotted the blaze.

What they didn't know is that Pine Street makes nothing but non-explosive lamp black. Damage in the fire was only $3,000.

Skillings Denies "Exploitation" Of Memorial Arena Workmen

Ald. Waldo M. Skillings yesterday denied that there has been any "exploitation or dunning" of workmen on the Memorial Arena, who recently agreed to work Saturday mornings without pay.

Chairman of the city's arena committee, Ald. Skillings said he was "very surprised" at the objections of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

The union wrote to the arena committee protesting "dunning" of the workers and stating it would refuse to allow the men to work free. A copy of the letter was read to council yesterday.

Ald. Skillings was asked by the union for an "explanation" why he approached the workers about each working one Saturday morning free a month.

The alderman told council yesterday that he saw the workers the day after the $325,000 arena by-law passed and they voted in favor of free work by nine to one.

"My first consideration was the interests of the citizens of Victoria. My object was to assist in every possible way to get the arena finished."

Council gave Ald. Skillings authority to deal with the union's objections.

Gyro's "Hole-In-One" Contest To Open Wednesday in City

Plans for the Gyro Club's annual "Hole-in-One" contest and carnival are now complete, and the four-day event will get under way at 7 p.m. tomorrow on grounds of Central Junior High School.

Prizes, novelties, color and music will be highlighted on the program, proceeds of which will go to the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

This year's objective is $12,000, a considerable increase over the last carnival when more than $9,000 was turned over to the Solarium. Since starting the "Hole-in-One" contests eight years ago, the Gyro Club has raised more than $45,000 for crippled children.

Part of the money raised this year will go toward completion of a third housing unit for Solarium staff members. In this connection, a special club committee will meet with the Provincial Government today to seek a contribution toward the housing program. The meeting will be held at 1.45 p.m. in the Solarium building.

RAISED TO DATE

Kenneth Davis, chairman of the advance ticket sales committee, reported yesterday that $2,556 had been raised to date for the carnival.

A work party will meet at the school grounds tonight to establish booths, lighting fixtures, and attend to other preparations. All members of the club will take part in the carnival.

Many committees have been active over the past several months planning for the event.

Chairmen of various committees are as follows:

Ross Hocking, golf play; Mark Trueman, lighting; Neil Drant and K. Davis, advance ticket sales; O. F. Dunn and L. Cox, finance; G. B. Paterson, grounds; M. Lougheed, refreshments; Jack Mercer, wheel games; D. Genn, advertising; L. McLennan, purchasing; A. Wills and D. Dregory, public address system; J. Mercer, tombola; W. J. Clark, personnel activities; Harry Holder, first aid, and H. Henderson and D. Humphries, games.

Six From City To Attend Liberal Parley

Six Victoria delegates will attend the Liberal Party convention in Ottawa on August 5, 6 and 7. Business of the convention, first held by Liberals since 1919, will be to elect a successor to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, retiring party leader.

A total of 19 delegates from Vancouver Island expect to attend.

Victoria delegates are former premier John Hart; D. J. Proudfoot, president of the Victoria Liberal Association; A. H. Cox, secretary of the Victoria Liberal Association; Mrs. J. L. Dates, vice-president of the British Columbia Liberal Association, and M.L.A.'s Mrs. Nancy Hodges and Arthur J. R. Ash.

Premier Byron Johnson and Education Minister W. T. Straith may also attend.

Delegates from the Nanaimo association will be E. P. Cummins, president, and W. M. Mouat of Ganges. The Liberal candidate for Nanaimo, to be named this month at a convention in Duncan, may also be a delegate.

The Comox-Alberni delegation will include Roy Clit, president of the Comox Provincial Liberal Association, Max Wright, secretary of the Comox-Alberni Federal Liberal Association, and Jerry Kincaird.

Other Island delegates are Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew and S. T. Morrow, president of the Esquimalt District Association.

Interim Index Now Prepared

An interim "industrial index" for British Columbia has been prepared by the regional development division of the Department of Trade and Industry, Hon. Leslie H. Eyres announced yesterday.

The complete industrial index will be ready in the Autumn, Mr. Eyres said.

Industrial facilities in 54 centres throughout the province is included in the interim index, designed to form a complete record of current economic information of general use to industry.

City Concerned Over Saanich Sewage Plan

Application of Saanich Council to let Dupplin Road and Burnside Road properties be connected to the city's northwest sewer was referred back to a committee yesterday by City Council.

The Union Board of Health recommended permission be granted for the connection but council referred it to the public works committee.

Mayor Percy E. George said he was "a little concerned about Saanich nibbling away" and Ald. Charles E. Banfield commented that such connections were "the thin end of the wedge."

City residents on Alpha Terrace complained that overflow and seepage from septic tanks in Saanich on Dupplin and Burnside Road was flowing onto their properties.

John Tribe, Saanich municipal clerk, said in a letter that the municipality considered the situation serious after hearing a report from Dr. J. L. Dayton, city medical officer.

Truck Driver Breaks Arm

A fractured left arm and bruised left leg were suffered by Clarence Dawse, 140 Joseph Street, in one of three accidents reported to city police during the week-end.

Police said that Dawse, driving a dairy truck, had crossed Douglas Street at Humboldt Street when the truck skidded, hit a parking sign and a bus at the northwest corner. The driver was thrown to the pavement.

About $175 damage was done to two cars, driven by Jack R. Bland of Oakland, Calif., and Alastair P. Gower, 238 Richmond Avenue, when they were in collision at Cook and Fort Streets Sunday night, according to police.

Police said a car which knocked over a fire hydrant at Blanshard Street and Burdett Avenue early Sunday did not stop and the driver did not report the accident.

Enthusiastic Youngsters See Oak Bay Playgrounds Opened

Enthusiastic children scoffed at clouds in Oak Bay yesterday and turned out 300 strong for the opening of municipality's playgrounds.

With the interest found only in children starting their Summer holidays they swung right into activities—baseball, swings, woodwork and games of all kinds.

Councillor W. G. Ellis, chairman of Oak Bay's park committee, officially opened both playgrounds, Windsor Park in the morning and pitched the first ball to open activities at Willow Beach Park in the afternoon. He was assisted by Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, secretary of the Oak Bay Playgrounds Committee, and Mrs. Jack Moffatt, special supervisor for senior games and tumbling.

Wooden elephants and deer were in abundance at Windsor Park, where the majority of children crowded about woodworking tables.

Under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Cockell, Miss Mavis Jones and Miss Diana Jackson, supervisors, youngsters wielded handsaws with spirit, making book-ends, door stops, toothbrush holders and plaques.

Attendance at each playground was about 150. This is slightly less than last year's opening day at Willows and slightly more than at Windsor Park.

Baseball, swinging and games were popular at Willows Beach. As a number of parents looked on, the children were supervised by Mrs. L. J. Clark, Miss Evelyn Usher, Miss Joan Challoner and Miss Ann Beketov.

TO DISCUSS COMPOST

Victoria Horticultural Society will hear W. Goddard discuss experiences with compost and mulches at a meeting in the City Hall tonight.

JEWELRY STOLEN

Jewelry worth about $450 was stolen from the home of Mrs. H. M. Cowper, 1301 Rockland Avenue, when she was away for a few hours June 26, according to city police reports.

Entry was gained through an unlocked bedroom window. Missing are a man's and a woman's wrist watches, bracelets and lockets.

NO DUCKS

City police sped to Beacon Hill Park at 4.30 a.m. yesterday to investigate a report that an aged Chinese was "stuffing ducks in a sack," but the ducks turned out to be bottles.

Four policemen caught up with the Chinese, who was wearing white gumboots, and found he was carrying a sack partly filled with empty bottles. There were no feathers.

The report was phoned in by a citizen who said he saw the Chinese stuffing the ducks in the sack.

A former Danish tennis champ, Ed Kelter, will give free instruction to children of all ages this Summer, starting today.

Gordon Hartley, chief instructor for the city playgrounds, announced yesterday that Mr. Kelter and other experts will instruct at 3 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Superior Street courts, behind the Parliament Buildings.

Swimming classes also start today, Mr. Hartley said. Girls will be given lessons on Tuesdays at 9 a.m. and boys on Fridays at the same hour, in the Crystal Garden.

Canadian Mails Are Going by Air

FLYING continues to shrink the time-distance across Canada. All Canadian first-class letter mail up to one ounce in weight on the main line routes across the country is now going by air for the ordinary four-cent postage stamp. The exceptions are letters off the main skyways, overweight and lesser mail matter. While the Post Office could have achieved much the same result by reducing the air mail rate, the experiment is a broader one. In so far as one is aware, Canada is the first country to attempt what amounts to almost universal air carriage of first-class mail matter.

From a commercial standpoint, business houses in Victoria and Montreal will now be fifteen hours apart, instead of four days, and the whole country can be spanned in less than twenty-four hours. A corollary effect may be an increase in air express, most likely to follow a speeding up of the normal means of letter communication. On both counts, business will benefit from a faster service, if postal arrangements are made to clear this faster service through the terminal offices without undue delay.

From a social standpoint there are any number of possibilities in the air mail development. Distant members of the family may be reached within a day, and coaxed into replying within two days. It will even be possible to receive a reply from a civil department at Ottawa in under a week, making due allowance for "consideration" and delays at the departmental end of the transaction.

This general speeding up of the business of communication cannot help but be beneficial to the nation, and the experiment is one well worth making. If it pays, it will be retained. Meanwhile there are few countries more apt to benefit from such an innovation than this land of vast spaces, between sea and sea.

Remuneration for a Prime Minister?

MR. Mackenzie King's contention that the office of Prime Minister should carry larger emoluments than it does raises a question of some interest to the nation. Mr. King, it should be noted, was speaking with regard to his successors, not himself. It has been the plea of some authorities over the years that Canada, like say Great Britain and the United States, does not pay its Prime Minister an adequate salary.

By comparison with the enormous earnings of movie stars, for example, who receive financial awards out of all proportion to their worth, prime ministers and presidents are ill paid. Nor does their remuneration rank with that received by some leaders of industry and the professions, although their responsibilities are much greater and the demands on human energy more manifold. There is of course a certain recompense in the prestige and power attached to chief national executives, a factor not without its appeal to human ambition.

On the other hand, a country should not expect to chisel even slightly on its prime minister, who has social and financial obligations to keep up commensurate with his position. Running the affairs of a country is the biggest business extant today, and it would seem proper that the head of a Government should receive adequate compensation. It would be poor national economy to expect excellent leadership on the basis of cheap financial return.

Mr. King's plea is worthy of study in the light of current circumstances. The office of Prime Minister should attract the best brains of the country, and, human nature being what it is, perhaps a good case can be made out for increasing the present scale of remuneration given to the holder of that position.

Cleaning City's Beaches Is Long Overdue

IF for $3,500 or any comparable sum Victoria can put its garbage crusher in order, and so dispose of the offal that comes back to city beaches in the hot weather months after being jettisoned at sea, the expenditure would be abundantly worth while. Surely tin cans, bottles, grapefruit rinds and the like can be crushed so that they will not return to litter the shores with a noisesome mess of rotting matter. Two men armed with sledge hammers could have done the same thing long ago, but a mechanical crusher should not be beyond means of contriving from whatever materials may be on hand. One thing is certain: until the refuse is towed sufficiently far to sea to stay there, or else the floating refuse is sunk, the daily revisitation on city beaches will continue, an eyesore to all and a menace to public health.

Saanich Action on Roads and Waterworks

TWO progressive schemes will go before the ratepayers of Saanich later this month, in measures to permit reconstruction of main thoroughfares in Saanich and the North Saanich waterworks project. The road program is of immediate interest in the Greater Victoria region, because traffic in the whole area is related. The cost, at $492,810, is not excessive, with regard to the nature of the road work to be done and the period over which it is spread. With outlying areas showing this interest in road reconstruction, the City should leave no stone unturned to get along with its own program.

Letters and Excerpts

Letters to the editor on any topic of genuine public interest are welcome if they are brief, accurate and fair. No letter will be inserted, in whole or in part, except over the proper signature and address of the writer. Unsolicited correspondence cannot be returned.

EUTHANASIA

Sir,—Not all Colonist readers will agree with your correspondent's views as expressed in her letter re euthanasia. It is no subject to be easily condemned. That people should learn the laws of health is undeniably true, but unfortunately we have to deal with things as they are and not as they ought to be. No one possessing a spark of humanity would allow an animal to linger on in hopeless unbelievable pain and suffering. It is not a sound argument to say that a law sanctioning euthanasia would be liable to abuse—what human law is not? Perhaps your correspondent has never had to witness intense suffering of those near and dear to her, or her attitude to a mercy death might be altered. It is reassuring to know that, law or no law, there are doctors with compassion enough to grant, in cases of the incurable or those in unbearable pain, a merciful release. The law might be extended to include hopelessly deformed and defective infants and the criminally insane.

NINA HEYWOOD

P.O. Box 495, Victoria, B.C.

THE SALES TAX

Sir,—Once again the rainbow of hope fades away. The glow of a bright new order is proven just a mirage in the taxpayers' desert.

Slowly, but surely, we are watching economic history repeat itself. Endeavor is being made to bend or break the backbone of the country. Inflation—which the 3 per cent sales tax is helping to balloon—will first impoverish the lower middle class, and, brutally distress the economically helpless.

Inflation can only result in deflation, the latter will break the upper middle class, and thus the vicious circle goes round and round.

Then unemployment—the weapon of the economic monarchy—is brought into play. Unless, of course, said royalty are desirous of more sport in the nature of collecting the spoils and profits of another war.

It is a grave mistake that the retail trade should have placed itself in the light of an abettor to oppression by helping to collect an imposition. It can only prove a boomerang in the long run.

It is also sad that the Finance Minister did not close his ears to the "voices" and ponder well the eventualities of killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

The delightful fairy tale that big industry would provide 60 per cent of the tax has already evaporated into thin air.

The 3 per centers will go on treading the mill those who can least afford it. The rich grow richer and the poor grow poorer. That will continue until the people are educated into choosing men of vision; men who will lend their energy into raising the lot of all the people, instead of sinking the country into an abyss of debt in order to support a useless class of merchants known as usurers.

Both the Federal and Provincial members were acutely aware of the curse of over-burdening taxation when they began to reimburse themselves.

Thinking Aloud

". . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

A WRITER on wine says that the word bottleneck must surely derive from "that funny little waist in the neck of a port wine bottle." What the glassblower who first thought of this trick set in motion!

Nowadays bottleneck is one of the most popular excuses for something that's not done. There's a narrow neck, apparently, stumping the best of intentions at every turn.

[illegible] the throes of a succession of bottlenecks, and, of course, houses are not being built because of a bottleneck in nails. Then shipping is only now getting out of the bottle, and the Fraser River was a bottleneck not long ago. Theatre exits are a bottleneck when sudden emptying of the auditorium is necessary, and so at the moment is Berlin.

DOWN THE SEWER

And while the high waistline of a milk bottle presents no serious restriction there must be a bottleneck here, too, for a friend tells me creameries pour skim milk down the sewers because there's no market for it. And with thousands of children handy to whom skim milk would be a boon.

There's a bottleneck in sales tax tickets also, apparently, although you would think this new industry would have prevented that in good time. The first cent this column tendered in tribute was thrown casually into a wooden box. Some Government auditor is going to have a bottleneck in his accounts.

But no doubt you've had enough of the word, so let's switch to its companion, red tape. This is an even more familiar term, but it really means the same. It derived from the old habit of tying up official documents in tape of a pinkish color. As a boy this column stitched innumerable miles of legal script with such a thread substitute.

CIRCUMLOCUTION

Red tape became popularized in a satirical sense, the words fitting the bill exactly when there was an occasion for criticizing delay caused by undue attention to routine or "passing the buck." Charles Dickens described the process without using the words when he said: "Whatever was required to be done, the Circumlocution Office was beforehand with all public documents in the art of perceiving how not to do it."

This ready accusation isn't always quite fair, since there comes a time—during Sessions—when the public expects to get an answer to every question asked, and the only way to cope with the problem is for governments to keep innumerable records of a duplicate nature private business would eschew. Hence the long and studied routine.

It's when it becomes too studied that the charge of red tape is hurled, and true enough a glance at the tempo of some official offices would appal you if you were in a hurry.

Red tape then, is the older brother of bottleneck. They are twin devils of delay.

GLASSBLOWER'S MISTAKE

And all this because it occurred to a glassblower that if he squeezed the port bottle at a certain point so that the sides almost touched it would help to keep air from the precious liquid inside.

The writer on wine, incidentally, says this neck in the bottle is a terrible nuisance and is responsible more than anything else for bad decanting of vintage wine.

So with bottleneck as we have come to regard the word. The modern bottleneck is also a nuisance, and is responsible for more bad temper than is enough. And more delay, and more heartbreak, and more waste of valuable time.

It may be poetic justice, however that bottlenecks that jam production were unknown until the assembly age came along. Perhaps we are all in too much of a hurry.

Perhaps when you read this you'll think there's a bottleneck hovering around this column, too. I wouldn't be surprised.

Observation Car:

By G. B.

JUDGING by caustic remarks on every side, many citizens of Victoria have reached the conclusion that the Provincial Government 3 per cent "nuisance" tax will affect the soaring cost of living to a far greater extent than that indicated by Government propaganda. Some persons remember the remarks of a prominent member of the Legislative Assembly that the budget could have been balanced without levying the tax. Greater Victoria police department figures for June showed three persons killed in traffic accidents, 27 drivers' licences suspended and $1,280 collected in fines. It would appear that the threat of impounding automobiles in cases where drivers do not carry public liability and property damage insurance has done little to promote safer driving. Many a man who drives a car as if he were flying a plane too low is the holder of insurance giving him complete coverage, and he doubtless thinks to himself that he has nothing to worry about . . . Boulevards throughout Fairfield district are decorated with brown patches caused by insufficient watering and the weight of power mowers. Property owners pay 1 cent per square foot for the privilege of gazing on the mottled grass.

Spring Cleaning in a Wig

(From The Times, London)

THE tempo of the law is majestic rather than brisk and so when it does suddenly quicken the results are impressive, even startling. News of such an occasion is published under the deceptively dull title of the Statute Law Revision Bill.

Lawyers, like householders who keep putting off the evil hour when cupboards must be made to yawn and desks to give up their dead letters and papers, have been appalled to find how much junk they are still harboring. Trouble evidently began, as it so often does in the home, by someone rummaging about at the back of things. He discovered in this case that widows may still, under a Statute of Merton, bequeath the corn on their lands. This, as every schoolboy knows, dates back to Henry III and against it in the new Bill is written "not required," repeal "the whole chapter." A note of irritation is unmistakably audible, and nobody who has Spring-cleaned will be surprised that it is followed by a frenzy of jettisoning.

As the old Acts and parts of Acts are thrown on to the scrap heap, the lawyers are heard shouting angrily through the mounting clouds of dust, "superseded by Statutum de Tallagio," "obsolete," "unnecessary and spent." They have reason to shout. Even the most untidy citizen will hold up his head more self-confidently when he hears of some of the odds and ends lurking in the undusted corners of the law.

The Sunday Observance Act of 1625 still talks gaily of punishment by setting in the stocks, and the Linen (Trade Marks) Act of 1744 of standing up to forenoon on the pillory.

Apothecaries, when this revision is safely completed, will no longer be exempted by an Act of William and Mary from serving the office of Constable Scavenger, the whole Act to enlarge the Trade to Russia will go and, with it, the more effectual suppression of piracy, the discovery of such as have defrauded the Poore of the Citty of London of the Moneys given for their Relief at the times of the late (very late) Plague and Fire, the prevention of abuses in the weighing and packing of butter in New Malton, the maynlenance of artyllarie and debarringe of unlawful games and Murther and malicious Bloudshed within the Courte.

Scotland is to be deprived of the last vestiges of her Lobsters Act of 1735, and many of her fairest cities, from Glasgow to the Town of Aberbrothock, are to lose their own Acts for laying a duty of two Pennies Scots upon every Scots Pint of Ale they sell.

The Customs of Kant, the lands of lunaticks, penance pecuniary and corporal, the paving of Drury Lane, the relief of Skippers and Keelmen on the Tyne, the laying of toll upon all horses crossing Blackfriars Bridge on a Sunday, the Diminution of the Possessions of Archbishopricks—there is no end to the lumber now manfully being cleared away.

Before the Act for the better preventing escapes out of the Queens Bench and Fleet prisons goes into the dustbin, it might, perhaps, be read over by authority in case it includes any tips for contemporary use, and this applies to the better apprehending, prosecuting and punishing of Felons that commit Burglary. The whole process of expurgation from the very beginning so that an entirely new edition of Revised Statutes may be published is, no doubt, as necessary as it is entertaining.

Canada's Weekly Editors

(Ottawa Evening Citizen Editorial)

EDITORS of Canada's weekly newspapers, numbering some 820 from The Digby Courier in Nova Scotia to The Ladysmith Chronicle on Vancouver Island, have been taking a look at themselves in a newly-released National Film Board short, "The Home Town Paper." The weekly selected to represent the group is The Vernon News, and if all the 820 editors hold the place in the community credited in the film to Vernon's young editor, Mr. Frank Harris, they may indeed feel duly reassured and flattered.

Those who cling to the romantic concept of a weekly editor as a rough-and-tough character in a frontier community (a type that survives strictly in Western movies) will be disappointed. The small-town editor today plays a role far more important than merely deciding who is to be lynched. He is a citizen of his community and his nation, well acquainted with civic affairs, who knows practically everybody in town by his first name and family tree.

His responsibility, in fact, is recording in type the heartbeats of his community. Vernon's editor, Mr. Harris, the film suggests, binds the entire community and the surrounding district together with a thin but strong web of information, opinion and report. He makes his paper as much a part of the town as the Chinese fruit vendor, the community band, the old men playing checkers in the park, the lacrosse game, the apple picker, the businessman on a fishing trip. He is a close friend not only of the mayor, but of the boys in the barber shop who tear his editorials to pieces every week.

But if the weekly editor keeps his finger on the town's pulse, he is no longer a gossip dispenser . . .

The modern Canadian weekly newspaper editor has come a long way from the characters dreamed up many years ago.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

One of the anomalies of the sales tax is that municipal councils, which asked for its imposition in the first place, in the form of an education tax, now have to pay 3 per cent on all their new equipment and supplies. For that they get back 1 per cent as their share of the levy.

Willie had come in to ask his father what made popcorn pop. But Father, unlike other parents, had an answer.

Dad—"I am glad you asked that question, William, it is a very interesting phenomenon. The polygonal starch cells in the corn are of such a nature as to facilitate expansion by the heat and to render it explosive along the line of least resistance, in the direction of the main radii. The endosperm swells considerably as a result, the peripheral portions cohering with the hull, but the fractured portions turning back in a more or less symmetrical manner to meet below the embry—why, must you go?"

Willie—"Yes, Sister wanted to know how it was done and I'm going to tell her."

Whale Meat

By FRANK M. KELLEY

WHETHER British Columbians will ever acquire a taste for whale meat, only time and a multiple of circumstances will determine. Since it was noised about that whale meat was going on sale in some Mainland markets and would subsequently be introduced to Island families, there have been expressions of opinion regarding its fitness and edible qualities.

Some have stated whale meat is not very palatable, even that it is not a protein producer, while others have been equally emphatic that it has [illegible] ness of albumoids resulting from the high cost of man's usual dish of meat.

In spite of all the pro and con discussion, however, whale meat will always provide substantial sustenance for many who have acquired, through heredity and circumstance, a dependence upon the huge mammal for their carnivorous needs. Looking at people brought up on a diet of whale meat and incidentally noting the healthy look of the help employed about the stations where the big mammals are processed, one must admit that it must have some food value.

GOOD OLD DAYS

Long before the present whaling station was established at Quatsino Sound—over 40 years ago—whalers were operating out of Sechart, Barkley Sound. Those were the good old days, when the housewife wasn't looking for a beef substitute because she couldn't afford to buy steak or roast now and then.

Travelers moving up and down the outside Coast of Vancouver Island always shunned the call at Sechart. That was understandable. It was the practice for the southbound coasters, seemingly on days when the air was heavy and held the aroma escaping from the boiling tanks—healthy enough to breathe, but certainly not at all suggestive of rose perfume. There the Tees or the Queen City would tie up, often for the greater part of a day, and load oil and fertilizer, when all present would get a fill of inhaled vitamins.

It was a common course then, if interested in the process of cutting up a whale, for the passengers to provide a gallery and watch Chinese, Indian and white men using their wicked-looking flensing knives and the steam tackle used for tearing the blubber from carcases hauled out on slip or ramp.

With the blubber cut away, the meaty part of the whale would be revealed, inevitably the cue for the help to slash off a favored cut and drag it along to the shacks they occupied in the vicinity of the plant. That was what was going on one day when I happened to be watching flensing operations with Captains Sprott and Rube Balcom, who founded the whaling industry on the West Coast of the Island, and Dr. Reismuller, a German scientist, who possessed some well-guarded chemical formula for the successful conversion of blubber, meat and bone to oil and meal.

WHALE MEAT ON MENU

The cutting out of the choice bits was a perquisite of the help. I asked questions. As whale meat was on the menu that evening I was invited to be present and sample it. With no attempts at camouflage there was nothing in taste or texture of the flesh to condemn it as good food. It was a bit darker than steer steak, suggested coarse pork and proved a trifle dry.

As I remember it, whale meat, to be fully appreciated, would require an apprenticeship of sorts in consumption before one would be qualified to pass on its merits. That it must be good food there is plenty of evidence about, and one can well imagine that in the hands of a clever cook it would be an easy matter to tuck away a good meal of whale meat and not be able to detect its real source. That has been done before this.

Today's Answer

Question on Page 8

Actually, clouds and haze in our atmosphere constantly obscure most of the earth's surface. Some color would appear from time to time, and our polar ice gleams brighter than hotter areas when the sun strikes it. Proportionately, the earth's surface is smoother than that of a ping-pong ball, although we have peaks, such as Mount Everest.

Finnish Control of Election Thwarted Communist Threat

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

Finland has demonstrated again one of the truisms that has developed from Russia's postwar efforts to subvert every country she can reach. As long as free peoples keep control of their election ma- [illegible] win.

In spite of all their appeals to class prejudice and their efforts to play upon economic unrest, red bayonets, not ballots, remain the only reliable Communist weapon.

Finland has just held an election which was free in every way except that no Finn can entirely forget the wishes of his great Russian neighbor, wishes which have twice been imposed at the point of the bayonet within ten years.

CAUTIOUS VICTORY

But all the parties had their free say during the campaign, with posters and open meetings The result was a great victory for the middle-of-the-road—for those who would maintain Finland's independence, but who were careful not to drive the minority Communists into desperate action Whether Russia will long tolerate such independence on her borders is a question which remains to be answered But for the time being the Communist Front is reduced to a third-rate place, dependent on the sufferance of the majority parties for any place at all in the Government

The Centrist Agrarians added six seats to the 50 they already held in the 200-member Parliament The Social Democrats, exponents of Western Socialism, added five to their previous 50 The popular Democratic Union (Communist Front) lost 11 and dropped to 38

Finland already is on the Russian hook economically, through heavy reparations shipments. She is not only under the guns of the Soviet's home army, but also of Russian forces on former Finnish soil which the little country was forced to cede after the war If Russia decides to reach, Finland could not put up anywhere near the fight she made in the "Winter War" of 1939-40.

But, as long as she can keep her election machinery free she insures one thing—that if she is conquered it will be through the application of direct pressure, and not by the insidious infiltration to which so many European states have succumbed.

... Oddities ...

NYSTED, Denmark, July 5 (CP)—The cat and the fiddle started some weird doings in the nursery rhyme, including the cow that jumped over the moon. But here's a modern Danish version:

A tomcat chased a sparrow today in a Nysted street. The commotion frightened a horse, which bolted and jumped onto the hood of an ambulance. The horse frightened a woman riding in the ambulance with her sick husband. She fainted and couldn't be revived for hours.

PONTIAC, Mich., July 5 (AP). —Lurking in the sun like a traffic policeman behind a billboard, Trooper Henry Delooff Monday flagged down and ticketed an errant flyer

The arrested man, Pte Richard Koester, 20, on leave from the United States Marines in Washington, paid a $30 fine to Justice Burt Lockwood The charge was reckless flying

Trooper Delooff said he watched Koester take off "like a cowboy" from the Pontiac airport. The officer took over another plane and followed Koester for 15 miles, with the rays of the sun as a shield

He said Koester made two low dives over populated areas After the second one, Delooff pulled up beside Koester and gave him the same signal traffic cops use to flag motorists to a curb.

Koester was arrested after he landed.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 5 (AP).—The door leading to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Club, destroyed by fire yesterday, originally bore the legend, "Members Only."

Idaho Meeting To Discuss Flood Dangers

OTTAWA, July 5 (CP)—Columbia River flood conditions will be discussed July 27 at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, the international joint commission announced today

Aim of the meeting is to work out a plan for the "control of floods in the various states and in British Columbia within the Columbia Basin," a statement said

"The commission had planned to have hearings in the Columbia Basin at a later date when the final report of the International Columbia River Engineering Board would be available.

"In view however, of the abnormal flood conditions which have caused heavy losses during the months of May and June in the Columbia Basin and on account of the vital interest in this problem of flood control by Canada and the United States, the commission is calling a special meeting."

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, July 5 (CP) — Prices were firmer in dull trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials and golds strengthened in spotty trading and base metals showed a slightly firmer tone. Western oils were quiet and weaker. Volume was about 543,000 shares.

The few issues trading in the industrials edged upward on fractional gains. Trading was light probably because of the closing of the New York market today in celebration of independence day in the United States. Brazilian Traction, CPR, International Paper, Atlas Steel, Page-Hersey, Walker's and B.A. Oil were among the stronger issues. Bell Telephone, Imperial Oil and Canadian Food Products weakened.

Senior golds moved strongly with Bralorne, Hollinger, Kerr Addison and Dome advancing. Eldona was active in the juniors and central Porcupine, Cochenour, Delnite, Dulama, Macassa and Negus gained 1 to 14 cents. Beveourt, Sigma, Donalda, Giant Yellowknife and Sylvanite were down.

Gains edged out losses in the base metals and Waite Amulet, Silver Miller and Falconbridge advanced from 5 to 15 cents. Smelters and International Nickel were also [illegible] rit and Callinan, Flin Flon were easier.

Home Oil, British Dominion, Calmont, Consolidated Homestead and Pacific Petroleum weakened in the Western oils. Okalta was a lone gainer.

Escapes Death

VANCOUVER, July 5 (CP).—Pilot Harvey Cooke, Vancouver, escaped death by inches here Sunday when a Trans-Canada Airlines plane propeller almost chopped his craft in two.

Cooke was awaiting tower instructions at the airport here when the airliner rammed his ship from behind. The propeller came so close it tore his seat cushion to shreds.

BOND MARKET

MONTREAL, July 5 (CP).—Dominions, provincials, municipals and corporations were firm and unchanged in dull trading on the Bond Market here today.

London Market

LONDON, July 5 (Reuters). — From the tendency today, it would appear that another dull week can be expected on the London Stock Exchange.

Immediate attention of operators continued to be centred in the Berlin situation and nervousness and caution continued to have their effect on price levels.

Throughout from all sections there were small losses with tobaccos and breweries the chief sufferers. Tobaccos were marked lower following the announcement that the supplies of tobacco drawn from bond would be cut by 16⅔ per cent.

Interest in the oil section was mainly on behalf of sellers. Declines however were not general but Anglo-Iranian was unsettled at 6⅞.

Mining issues were completely neglected. South Africans were occasionally a few pence off, but there were insufficient movements to give a decided trend to these issues.

TEXTILES, PLASTICS and CHEMICAL COMPOUNDS ...From Canada's Forests

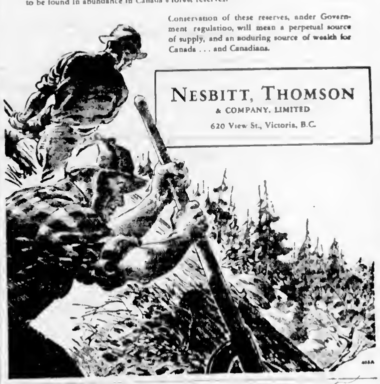

Not so many years ago Canada regarded her forests as a vast reservoir of pulp wood to be used largely for the manufacture of newsprint.

We did not count on the magic wand of the chemist, which created the fast growing synthetic textile industry, and the scientific development of plastics.

Within the past few years the value of this priceless heritage—our forests—has been multiplied a thousandfold due to modern research which continues steadily its work of developing new products and extending their use.

The principal raw material in the making of cellulose acetate, from whence come synthetic textiles, plastics and chemical compounds, is wood pulp, to be found in abundance in Canada's forest reserves.

Conservation of these reserves, under Government regulation, will mean a perpetual source of supply, and an enduring source of wealth for Canada . . . and Canadians.

A Labor Union says about Communism . . .

The following extract from a resolution passed at the Cleveland Convention of the International Typographical Union was sent under date of June 3, 1948, to every member of the Union in Canada and the United States:

"It is the sense of this convention that all true and loyal citizens of our great country must reflect the degree of tolerance permitted by the laws of our country with respect to political philosophies.

"It is the sense of this convention that any political philosophy containing advocacy of force and violence as a means of its attainment is contrary to our laws. Those using such methods are subject to punishment by law and they should be prosecuted in the American way.

"It is the judgment of this convention that those who now espouse communism as a political philosophy are being led by those who have absorbed the theories and practices of a foreign power which are contrary to our fundamental concept of freedom and democracy.

"Therefore we must tie to those communists who may be in this country and Canada the acts of those who have a government functioning under Communist principles.

"We cannot accept the philosophy of Communism. We cannot accept as leaders, those who associate themselves with Communism as now advocated and practiced. We rely on the democratic principles of our country and the good sense of our people to keep these principles alive and functioning."

Non-Communist labor leaders are aware that under Communism labor unions lose their power and working people are enslaved by a ruling clique of bureaucrats.

Labor has a great stake in preserving and improving the Freedom System under which we live in North America.

JIMMY VISITS JOHNNY CHUCK'S OLD HOUSE

Jimmy Skunk was smiling as he strolled toward the old house of Johnny Chuck, near the foot of the hill. There was no one there to see him and that made him smile still more. You see, the odor that perfume which he had thrown at Reddy Fox just a little while before was very, very strong there and Jimmy knew that until that had disappeared no one would come near the place, because it was so unpleasant for everyone. To Jimmy himself it wasn't unpleasant at all, and he couldn't understand why other people disliked it so. He had pointed over that a great deal. He was glad it was so, because on account of it everyone treated him with respect and took special pains not to quarrel with him.

"I think I'll look about a bit before I go in," thought Jimmy.

"I guess it's a good thing that Old Mother Nature didn't make us all alike," said he to himself. "I think there must be something the matter with their noses, and I suppose they think there is something the matter with my nose. But there isn't. Not a thing. Hello! There is Johnny Chuck's old house just ahead of me. Now we shall see what we shall see."

He walked softly as he drew near to the old house. If Peter was way down inside it wouldn't matter how he approached. But if Peter should happen to be only just inside the doorway, he might take it into his head to run if he should hear footsteps, particularly if those footsteps were not heavy enough to be those of Reddy or Granny or Old Man Coyote. Jimmy didn't intend to give Peter a chance to do any such thing. If Peter once got outside that old house his long legs would soon put him beyond Jimmy's reach and Jimmy knew it. If he was to give Peter the fright he had made up his mind to give him, he first would have to get him where he couldn't run away. So Jimmy walked as softly as he knew how and on such a way as to keep out of sight of Peter should he happen to be lying so as to look out of the doorway.

At last he reached a position where with one jump he could land right on the doorstep. He waited and cocked his head on one side to listen. There wasn't a sound to tell him whether Peter was there or not. Then he lightly jumped over to the doorstep and looked in at the doorway. There was no Peter to be seen.

"If he is here, he is way down inside," thought Jimmy. "I wonder if he really is here. I think I'll look about a bit before I go in."

Now the doorstep was of sand, as Johnny Chuck's doorsteps always are, and they pointed straight toward the inside of Johnny Chuck's old house. Jimmy looked carefully, but not a single track pointing the other way could he find. Then he chuckled again.

"The scamp is in here all right," he muttered. "He hid here and watched all that happened, and then decided to lie low and wait until he was sure that the way was clear and no one would see him." In this Jimmy was partly right and partly wrong as you and I know.

He stared down the long dark doorway a minute. Then he made up his mind. "I'll go down and make Peter a call, and I won't bother to knock," he chuckled and he has the greatest respect for

You see no sooner did he start to enter that old house of Johnny Chuck's than he was met by a lot of yellow jackets, which you know are a kind of hornet. And there were in a very bad temper, were those yellow jackets. You see their house was just inside that door way, and they already had been quite upset once that morning by Peter Rabbit. So the instant Jimmy Skunk started to enter, out they poured all ready to fight.

But Jimmy Skunk had no intention of fighting. He knows all about yellow jackets and the sharp little lances they carry in their tails, and he has the greatest respect for distance. Then he sat down to chuckle again.

"I know what happened," said he, talking to himself. "Peter Rabbit popped into that doorway. Those yellow jackets just naturally got after him. He didn't dare come out for fear of Reddy Fox and me, so he just naturally had to go back further into the house to get away from all those yellow jackets. Now he's afraid to plan them again to get out. He deserves to get stung for playing such a trick on me. I think I'll sit in front of the doorway and call in to Peter that I know he played that trick on me and that I will pay him right back."

Paella an Appetizing Casserole

Do you like to share your favorite foods with favorite friends? You will enjoy serving such an elegant casserole as Paella Valenciana Although it contains many ingredients, it is not difficult to prepare, says Bernice Burns, who tells you how to make it the long and the short way in Redbook Magazine for July:

"Paella is pronounced 'Pah-a-yah' and is of Spanish origin. There are a dozen variations on the basic theme of stewed chicken, rice and shellfish Green peas and pimiento are frequently included Our recipe for Paella Valenciana is a guide which may be varied Other seafood can be used with confidence in the result. We usually simmer the chicken a day in advance

"Plan to have six or eight persons in for a Paella feast Add a bowl of green salad, a loaf of French or Italian bread or white rolls Finish with a platter of chilled fruit.

PAELLA VALENCIA
(6-8 servings)

Step 1—Place chicken in large pan (Stewing fowl or back and wing pieces) Add 1½ teaspoons salt, 6 peppercorns, and 1 onion, sliced Simmer gently for 2 hours or until chicken is tender. Remove chicken There should be about 1 quart broth remaining

Step 2—To bubbling chicken broth add 8 fresh shrimps, 8 scallops, 1 dozen clams (scrub), 4 mussels (shells), 4 hard-shelled crabs (cleaned and quartered). Simmer 30 minutes.

Step 3—While seafood simmers, cook 2 cups rice by your favorite method.

Step 4—Heat in frying pan 2 tablespoons olive or salad oil, ½ cup chopped onion, and 1 clove garlic, chopped. Cook until browned Stir in 2 cups cooked chicken, 2 Italian or spicy sausages, cut in pieces, and ½ cup cooked ham, chopped Let meat brown. Turn into seafood mixture Simmer a few minutes.

Step 5—Place cooked rice in large casserole (warmed). Mix ¼ teaspoon saffron or few drops yellow vegetable coloring until rice is golden. Pour seafood, meat and remaining broth over the rice With large spoon, mix as if you were tossing a salad Serve at once

"Here is a quick version of Paella which uses canned shrimp and canned soup

PAELLA AMERICANA
(4 servings)

Combine in saucepan 1 can condensed chicken-rice soup, 1 12 oz jar clam broth or 1 cup water liquid from 5 oz can of shrimp. Add 1 cup washed rice Cover. Bring to boiling point Turn heat low and steam 20-25 minutes

Heat in frying-pan 2 tablespoons salad oil and 1 clove garlic, cut in two Let brown Remove and discard garlic Add ¼ cup sliced onion Stir until browned Remove, save Add ¼ lb. sliced salami, cut in pieces Stir until browned. Add shrimp from 5 oz can. Let heat, stirring gently so as not to break shrimp.

Treatment of Anxiety States

By Dr. J. H. WARREN

Almost half of the practice of general physicians is made up of patients who have anxiety states Unfortunately, many physicians—after careful examination and finding nothing wrong—tell the patient so and think nothing more about it. The patient, on the other hand, knows he has certain symptoms and often looks elsewhere for help

What the patient needs is that the physician (who must recognize the anxiety state) explain to him how anxiety upsets the body processes and causes the symptoms

Exhibit of Hand Weaving Opens In Empress Hotel

The all-Canadian exhibition of hand weaving opened yesterday at the Empress Hotel featuring hundreds of brightly-colored articles from guest towels to bedspreads The three-day exhibition is sponsored by the Victoria Hand Weaver's Guild, an association of some 50 Victoria women interested in "the revival of an ancient art."

Mrs A. M Mingay Spicer, publicity director of the organization, said the exhibition showed articles from similar associations as far east as Glace Bay, Cape Breton Island.

The exhibition was opened by Education Minister W. T. Straith, and Miss Kathleen Agnew, honorary president of the Victoria Hand Weaver's Guild and two spinning wheels stood among the exhibits. Mrs. E C. Coleman operated a spinning wheel, using a distaff to spin raw flax into fine linen, while Mrs. E C. Clark weaved a fabric of intricate design on a hand loom.

Among the exhibits were two bedspreads weaved 60 years ago on an Ontario farm from the wool of sheep raised on the same farm.

Mrs. Spicer said the Victoria guild is more than 13 years old and held the first all-Canadian exhibition of weaving in the city some years ago. Articles from Victoria have been sent to similar exhibitions in Montreal, Toronto and Edmonton. Recently the Canadian Handicraft Guild of Montreal sent Victoria-made cloths to an exhibition in Europe, Mrs. Spicer said.

Ask Equality For Women In Ministry

LONDON, July 2 (AP).—The Lambeth conference was asked today to give women equal status with men in the ministry of the Anglican Church.

The conference of Anglican churchmen has power to recommend but not to impose changes on its constituent churches.

The appeal was made by the Anglican group for the ordination of women to the ministry in a memorial proposing a "ministry of men and women merged into a common priesthood and a common diaconate."

The memorial said:

"One characteristic regarded by men as distinctive of woman is their enthusiasm"

It said a purely male ministry, elderly and over-burdened, was unlikely to "produce the fire and spiritual revival that alone will save the present generation . . ."

"It is hard to believe that the bulk of that numerous section of women that has drifted completely away from the church can ever be recalled save by other women."

Won't Publish Exam Results

BRISTOL, England, July 5 (CP).—The Bristol education committee has decided to stop supplying school pass lists for publication in local newspapers—to spare embarrassment to boys and girls who fail.

Alderman P C. Williams, committee chairman, said examination failures "have suffered additional mental distress in the past by the knowledge that friends could learn of their failure through the papers."

A Ministry of Education official didn't think the method would keep failures a secret It was quite obvious, he said, that "neighbors will know which children have passed the scholarship, whether results are published or not, by seeing what schools they attend after the examinations"

Three Ways to Cook Tomatoes

Tomatoes are at their peak now You can eat them out of your hand with a dash of salt, or you can enjoy their luscious goodness in salads, in sandwiches and in these new ways which Alice Petersen describes in McCall's for July:

BROILED DEVILED TOMATOES

- 3 medium tomatoes
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- Dash Cayenne
- ¼ cup bread crumbs
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Cut each tomato in half, crosswise Mix salt, pepper, Cayenne and sprinkle over each tomato half Cover with bread crumbs and dot with butter or margarine Do not put them under the broiler yet Now make up this tasty topping

- 5 hard-cooked eggs
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- ¾ teaspoon prepared mustard
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 2 drops tabasco
- 1 raw egg

Put your eggs on to cook It'll take 15 minutes in simmering water When they're done, run them under cold water immediately to keep the yolks from turning black

In the meantime, melt butter or margarine in a heavy saucepan over very low heat. Mix in everything except the raw egg and mix thoroughly. Add hard-cooked eggs chopped fine Whip up the raw egg and mix it in last of all. Continue cooking for a full 4 minutes over low heat, stirring constantly.

Now slide the tomatoes under the broiler, about 2 inches from unit or tip of flame. Allow them to cook for 5 minutes Then top each tomato half with some of the deviled egg mixture Sprinkle with chopped parsley to make it especially pretty Six people will adore the flavor of the tasty recipe

SWEET AND SOUR TOMATOES

- 1 teaspoon fat
- 1 clove garlic
- 4 large tomatoes
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 teaspoon minced parsley
- 1 teaspoon brown sugar

Heat fat (it can be bacon shortening, butter or margarine or oil) in a skillet over fairly low heat along with split garlic clove for about 5 minutes Take out the garlic Cut tomatoes crosswise and place them cut side down in the hot fat When brown, turn over each tomato and sprinkle mixture of oil vinegar, parsley and brown sugar Now cook on lower heat or simmer until skin puckers If they threaten to burn, add a bit more oil and vinegar Plenty for 4

BAKED STUFFED TOMATOES WITH CHEESE SAUCE

- 4 tomatoes
- ½ cup fine bread crumbs
- 1 can sardines
- ½ cup chopped stuffed olives
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Few grains pepper
- 1 teaspoon basil

Start your oven at 325 deg F, or slow Now cut a thin slice off stem end of tomato Scoop out the pulp with a spoon and turn tomatoes upside down to drain Mix up tomato pulp with all the other ingredients and fill the drained tomatoes with the mixture Place tomatoes in a baking dish and pour about ½ cup of water into bottom of dish. This helps to keep the tomatoes from bursting. Bake in the oven for 45 minutes.

While tomatoes are baking make up about a cup of white sauce, stir into it ¼ of a teaspoon of dry mustard. When it's cooked, stir in ½ cup grated sharp cheese until melted Don't cook any further Pour this sauce over the baked tomatoes and serve to 4

Canadian Tanners Try Colors For Latest Footwear Fashions

OTTAWA, July 5 (CP) — With peeping toes disappearing from shoe styles, milady might as well realize that larger shoes are necessary if she wants foot comfort along with that "all-closed" look

In open models the big toes could come right to the edge of the sole but the Shoe Manufacturers Association of Canada warns that in closed shoes the wearer should allow at least one-quarter to one-half an inch be- ... end of the shoe

The reason is that when you stand the foot naturally spreads and the toes thrust forward. Thus a woman will take a larger size in a closed shoe than in an open one—but since the long, tapered look is fashionable this should not worry her unduly.

Experts of the S M A C., offer the following advice on correct fitting

1 See that the clerk measures both feet, as one often is longer than the other — the longer foot should determine the shoe size.

2 When buying shoes be sure that the large toe joint, where bunions usually occur, fits into the part of the shoe where the sole begins to swing under the arch — in other words the widest part of the foot should coincide with the widest part of the shoe.

3 The shoe should hug the foot closely round the heel

Shoe experts explain that the three weight-bearing points of the foot are the area under the big toe, the area under the little toe and the area under the heel If these key points have adequate freedom and support, the weight of the body will be evenly distributed

"Breaking in" is described as a painful process in which the feet make more adjustment than the shoes—in correctly fitted shoes it should not be necessary.

Freed from wartime restrictions Canadian tanners have gone in for a variety of colored leathers

"Just like a painter, the chemist at the tannery must exercise great care in mixing his colors and pre-testing them on various types of leather," says the S M A C

Delicate pastel shades, grey bronze, cocoa, already are popular shoe shades Pine Green and Fiesta Wine will be the chosen colors this Autumn

As for the Fall shoe fashions, the S M A C. reports that new lasts have been designed for that 'all-closed' look, and advance Fall showings by Canadian manufacturers feature variations on the opera pump theme.

Faced with the problem of designing an all-closed shoe which does not look heavy, the manufacturers are making use of such devices as multiple cut-outs on the front of the shoe and below the ankle—the object is to avoid dense, solid color, particularly black and Town Brown, both of which will be popular shades next season

CAPITOL THEATRE Rudy Vallee, whose flair for comedy has been developing steadily, wins a prime opportunity to display further skill in this direction in "I Remember Mama" now showing at the Capitol Theatre. Director George Stevens tabbed him for the part after applauding his humarous performance in "The Bachelor and the Bobby-Soxer." Producer Harriet Parsons signed Vallee for the important role of a self-important neighborhood doctor. This became Vallee's [illegible] winding up a personal appearance stunt.

ROYAL THEATRE Wayne Morris plays one of the leading roles in Warner Bros. celebrated comedy, "The Voice of the Turtle," now showing at the Royal Theatre. Ronald Reagan and Eleanor Parker are starred in the film. "The Voice of the Turtle" was written by John Van Druten and had a successful stage run before being rewritten for the screen.

ATLAS THEATRE Warner Bros.' brilliant mystery thriller, "The Unsuspected," a Michael Curtis production, is now at the Atlas Theatre. Starred in this important drama are Joan Caulfield, Claude Rains, Audrey Totter, Constance Bennett and Hurd Hatfield, also Michael North, a newcomer, who is introduced in this film. The production is based on a Charlotte Armstrong novel, which has been adapted by Bess Meredyth, with screenplay by Ranald MacDougall.

DOMINION THEATRE Said to be one of the most unusual of all Tarzan films, Sol Lesser's "Tarzan and the Mermaids" revolves around Edgar Rice Burroughs' famous ape-man's adventures with a tribe of aquatic natives on the African coast. In trying to assist a pretty native girl to escape a loveless marriage, Tarzan finds himself involved not only with husky opponents in underwater fights but with a far more sinister white ruler of the tribe, passing as a god. This feature is now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

ODEON THEATRE Ingrid Bergman chalks up one of her most telling emotional performances in "Arch of Triumph," the stirring dramatic film based on Erich Maria Remarque's best-seller. Enterprise Studios produced "Arch of Triumph," which is now on the Odeon screen through United Artists release.

RIO THEATRE Handsome Patric Knowles has the leading romantic role in support of Bob Hope and Joan Caulfield in the Paramount comedy, "Monsieur Beaucaire," which is now showing at the Rio Theatre. Knowles and Marjorie Reynolds supply the love interest, while Hope and Miss Caulfield supply the laughs.

Inner Harbor Dredging Postponed Indefinitely

When Victoria's Inner Harbor will be dredged is anyone's guess at the present time.

W. K. Morton, district engineer for the Federal Department of Public Works, New Westminster, told The Daily Colonist yesterday this phase of local harbor development may be postponed "indefinitely."

A large suction dredge unit, only one of its kind immediately available on the Pacific Coast, and originally scheduled to be here by now, is engaged in dike repair work in the Fraser River flood area.

It is possible, Mr. Morton said, the dredge will be placed on the Fraser River Channel when dike work is completed. Owned by a private concern, the dredge is now operating under contract with the Federal Government.

Rock blasting operations in the Inner Harbor were completed some time ago.

News of the dredge work delay here has brought disappointment for local shipping men and harbor development groups of the city and Chamber of Commerce.

New Ruling

An official order banning sockeye catches in the Fraser River yesterday plugged a loophole in the Federal salmon fishing regulations.

No sockeye may be "caught, possessed or purchased" from the river's waters until July 28, official sockeye opening date.

Previous regulations banned use of salmon nets of less than eight-inch mesh. Many fishermen got around the rule by doubling up their nets or hanging them loosely.

YORK INTERNATIONAL "They Won't Believe Me," now at the York International Cinema, is the story of a wealthy wife and her playboy husband who ruins the lives of the three women who love him. Starring in this R K O Radio offering are Robert Young as the likeable but weak-kneed husband; Susan Hayward and Jane Greer as the "other women." Rita Johnson is seen as the wife. Twice on the point of eloping, Young is lured back to his wife by her generous outpouring of money on material things dear to his heart.

Price Boost

Increases ranging from 20 per cent for sockeye to more than 100 per cent for Queen Charlotte Islands pinks and 100 per cent for pinks and chums in all other commercial fishing areas, have been granted to fishermen belonging to the United Fishermen & Allied Workers' Union.

A contract dealing with 1948 price schedules for various salmon species was signed recently by the union and the Salmon Canners' Operating Committee.

Meanwhile, sockeye fishing operations, which commenced a week ago Sunday, have proved "fair" in most districts. Heaviest catches to date have been made in Fisher Channel and the Bella Coola areas.

Skeena attracted many fishing vessels, with 700 boats landing on the average 25 fish each.

Very Active

The fishing industry of Mexico has developed favorably during the first quarter of this year, according to a report received here yesterday from Mexico City.

Shrimp fishing has been active, with the total catch totaling more than 1,000,000 pounds, most of which was sent to the United States.

In addition to operations in the Pacific and the Gulf of California, there was active shrimp fishing off the coast of Veracruz State in the Gulf of Mexico. The catch there is reported to be worth about $100,000 monthly.

Boat Burns

Five men and a girl were rescued from their flaming 32-foot fishboat near Stuart Island, 120 miles northwest of Vancouver, early Sunday.

Four of the men, from Vancouver, were flown to hospital with burns as a result of an explosion that turned one man into a flaming torch. He dived into the water.

Badly burned were Edgar Hansen, 35, and Clifford Gourdine, 22. They are reported in good condition today.

James Dyer, 20, and Gordon Wright, 24, were treated for burns and discharged.

The six were rescued by a passing fisherman.

COVERS HUGE AREA

The Pacific Ocean has an area of 63,800,000 square miles.

Veteran Skipper Leaves Retirement Will Sail New Supply Ship to Arctic

MONTREAL, July 5 (CP).—A veteran skipper who served 34 years at sea from cook's boy to captain and was decorated for war service has come out of retirement to sail the Arctic supply ship Regina Polaris.

When the little 139-ton wooden vessel moves out of Montreal harbor Saturday, Capt. Thomas Bannerman, O.B.E., will be on the bridge, brought back by his love of the sea and an urge to feel a ship under him once more.

"We should have a good trip," Capt. Bannerman said today. "Ice reports from the North indicate favorable conditions. Then, of course, we have a good ship."

The Regina Polaris, built by the Oblate Fathers at Sorel, Que., little more than a year ago, will carry nine passengers, two of them children, and a cargo of 300 tons of supplies.

The Oblate Fathers last year used the dumpy little vessel to supply their Northern missions, but this year sold her to a commercial firm, the Hudson Bay Trading Company.

15 MISSIONS

Fifteen main missions will be touched by the ship and these will supply inland posts. The Oblate missions serve Eskimos in an estimated area of 1,000,000 square miles.

On her second trip into the Arctic, the Regina Polaris takes over some of the duties of the famous supply ship Nascopie, which foundered last year up Hudson Bay off Cape Dorsett.

Special attention will be paid to the health of Eskimos. Dr. H. W. Lewis of Ottawa, medical superintendent for Eastern Arctic, will be aboard the Regina Polaris. So will a dentist.

Because of her small capacity, the ship will put in at Churchill, Man., several times to pick up new cargo.

Capt. Bannerman, now 67, knows the Northern waters. He went North in 1912 with a survey mission, played a part in the construction of Port Nelson in 1914 and has been on several other missions.

He was born in Leith, Scotland, coming to Canada when 26 in 1909; he joined a sailing vessel as cook's boy and his first job was peeling potatoes.

He took his master's foreign going certificate in steam and sail at Halifax in 1917.

He was awarded the O.B.E. in 1944 for devotion to duty and meritorious service as a skipper of merchantmen during the World War.

Montreal Stocks

MONTREAL, July 5 (CP).—Industrials were steady to slightly firmer in light dealings near the final hour on the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market today.

Papers and utilities were quiet. International Paper and Brazilian were firmer but Abitibi Pfd. and Consolidated Paper were shaded. Bell lost ⅛.

Oils were slightly easier. Imperial Oil and Gaspe was improved but McColl, International Petroleum, Imperial Oil rights and B.A. Oil backed down fractionally.

Metals and carriers were steady with International Nickel and C.P.R. on the gain side. Canadian Breweries dropped ⅛ in beverages.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

THAT WORD "BLINDFOLD"

"Blindfold" is an interesting word. Today it means, as a verb, to cover a person's eyes with a bandage, and one sometimes hears it used as a noun to name that bandage. Formerly it was used as an adjective, in the sense of Dryden's:

"Fate's blindfold reign the atheist loudly owns."

Moreover, the word as it is now understood—in the sense of covering the eyes, hindering from seeing—is very old, as witness this translation of a line in the New Testament:

"And when they had blindfolded Him, they struck Him on the face."—Luke xxii 64.

But that is not how the word started. "Blindfold" is of Anglo-Saxon derivation, and, properly speaking, means not to fold something over the eyes, but "to strike down."

It is the Anglo-Saxon blind that one finds in blindfold, plus fellan, or fylian, "to fell" or "to strike down." Accordingly, the word was first blindfeld, and blindfold developed by association.

Incidentally, our word "to fell," meaning "to strike down," is from the same root—the Anglo-Saxon "fellan"—as the second part of "blindfold." Shakespeare dramatized its meaning beyond any doubt in this repetitive line:

"Stand, or I'll fell thee down."

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, July 5 (CP). — Oats and barley futures showed a firm tone on buying by processors and shippers today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Buying was stimulated by reports of lack of good moisture in some areas on the Prairie grain belt.

Commission house orders found little for sale in rye futures trading. The deferred months scored fair gains, while the present contract remained unchanged.

There was no export of Canadian wheat reported, but indications were that 50,000 bushels of Canadian barley had been sold to an unnamed overseas country.

Class Two wheat prices remained unchanged from Saturday.

A record number of entries is expected for the annual Scottish Games Saturday, July 31, at Macdonald Park.

Among prizes offered will be those for children in Highland costumes included in the open championship events. One of these is the special Highland fling for competitors of six years and under.

After leaving Victoria the games will continue at Vancouver one week later. Final competition will take place in Seattle, August 14, and high-point finalists will be judged there at the second annual International Highland Games.

Entry forms are now ready, the association reported, and further information may be obtained from [illegible]

Soon to Lift Quarantine On Destroyer

Unless new polio cases develop aboard the cruiser H.M.C.S. Athabaskan, the quarantine will be lifted July 13, naval medical authorities announced yesterday.

The six men now diagnosed as polio cases were removed from the ship following her arrival in port and placed in the Royal Canadian Navy hospital at H.M.C.S. Naden.

When the diagnosis had been confirmed they were removed to isolation for treatment at the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Since there have been no fresh cases since the ship's arrival, it has been established that all six men now in hospital were infected at an original source.

No more cases of poliomyelitis were reported over the week-end. The provincial total now stands at 25, exclusive of the six cases reported from H.M.C.S. Athabaskan.

The Red Cross has advised the health department that iron lungs are available if and when they are needed.

Last City Street Car Ends Career

—Colonist Photo

VICTORIA bid official good-bye yesterday to its street cars when party of prominent civic leaders joined with B.C. Electric Co. officials in journey from old Beacon Hill terminus along Government Street to Pembroke Street car barns. It will be last appearance of street cars on city streets, company officials said. Final regular run was completed Saturday night.

Shown on lower step of car, above, are E. P. Fox, assistant public relations director of B.C. Electric, and Walter Peddle, senior company conductor, who made final run. Leaning over Mr. Peddle is Rowland Halls, company transportation manager. Looking through side front window are J. M. Rockingham, personnel director, and Ralph Matthews, assistant to W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president.

Victoria's Last Trolley Laid at Rest After 'Mourners' Take Final Ride

Memorial services were held late yesterday afternoon for one of the city's most tireless workers during the past 60 years—Victoria's last street car.

On hand for the brief but simple ceremony, held in the Langley Street office of the B.C. Electric Railway Co., were members of the City Council, the mayors and reeves of surrounding municipalities, directors of the Chamber of Commerce, directors [illegible] Bureau, representatives of the press, B.C. Electric officials and employees.

The group of "mourners" numbered nearly 100 as W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president of the company, passed among them with expressions of sympathy at the passing of "this monument of public transportation."

FITTING CEREMONY

Mr. Mainwaring said it was fitting that the passing of the street car should be marked by such a ceremony since Victoria was one of the first cities in Canada to inaugurate a street car service in 1890. When the transportation service was started the trams trundled over a mere four miles of street car tracks along Government Street and out to what is now the Royal Jubilee Hospital, but what was, in those days, "wild and woolly country."

Mingling with the main body of "mourners" was Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb who said he had been joined by special ties to the old street cars since he had once been an employee of the B.C. Electric. As a young man, Mr. Anscomb worked as a clerk in the Langley Street office. He formerly carried the ticket boxes from Langley Street up to the company's offices on Broad Street.

VETERAN OPERATOR

Another man who knew the street car shortly after it came to Victoria was Esquimalt Councillor Charles Smith. He was a street car operator for 36 years. Councillor Smith recalled how the "big snow of 1922" tied up the transportation system for five days.

"We've never had anything like it before or since," he said. "We were just stuck right where we stopped when the fall got bad. It took them five days to dig us out."

Despite the heavy tugs of memory there were no tears shed at the ceremony which lasted nearly an hour. Then the "mourners" were transported by bus to the old Beacon Hill terminus.

Standing there at the end of the line was the "last of the Mohicans," somberly decorated for the solemn occasion. With the "mourners" jam-packed aboard, just as crowds of Victoria citizens had been wont to do in the rush hours of an earlier day the cortege moved through the city to the car barns on Pembroke Street where "interment" followed.

Surviving is a bright and shiny [illegible] over 68 miles of streets in Greater Victoria.

One Pilot Killed In R.N. Collision

LOSSIEMOUTH, Scotland, July 5 (AP).—Two Royal Navy Seafire fighter planes collided in flight today and crashed in flames 20 miles apart. One pilot was killed. The other parachuted to safety.

CYPRUS JEWS LAND

HAIFA, Palestine, July 5 (AP).—The Ss. Pan York landed 2,200 Jews today from Cyprus. Another 2,000 are expected later today aboard the Ss. Pan Crescent. The Jews had been interned in Cyprus by Britain because they had tried to enter Palestine without immigration visas. About 20,000 Jews still are in camps on Cyprus.

Prices Theme Of Conference Mayor States

Mayor Percy E. George was back at the City Hall yesterday looking fit after a cross-country journey to Halifax for the convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

The mayor said the convention was not "picturesque" but it was a "listening post — the Government listens."

Major point discussed was prices, and delegates passed a motion by Mayor George that the Dominion try to stop the inflationary trend.

He said he pointed out that there were many people in Canada, particularly on the West Coast, who were living on fixed incomes or pensions and having difficulties.

Two matters forwarded by the City Council received favorable consideration at the convention. A resolution asking for control of unsuitable comics for children and another asking that the Dominion make some payment to municipalities on tax-exempt Government property that is revenue bearing. A special committee was named to study the taxation question.

Special Flood Session To Open Without Pomp

Opening of the special flood session of the B.C. Legislature at 3 p.m. tomorrow will be marked by the absence of the pomp and ceremony which characterise the regular sessions.

The Throne Speech, to be delivered by Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan, is expected to be brief. Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks is in California.

It is understood the usual debate on the Throne Speech will be abandoned. Premier Byron Johnson will make a statement to the House outlining the situation created by B.C. floods and reviewing the action taken by the Government.

At least three bills are expected to be introduced before the House rises for the day, but they will not be debated until Thursday.

Most important is expected to be an omnibus measure to authorize money for relief and rehabilitation. A second will provide a moratorium on certain classes of debts for those who have suffered from the floods and a third will provide pay for members attending the special session.

The agreement with the Federal Government for sharing of flood rehabilitation costs, it is reported, has not yet been completely written. It is probable, therefore, that instead of ratifying the agreement made, members will simply authorize the making of such an agreement with the Dominion.

Caterpillars on Island Almost Disappeared

The plague of caterpillars on Vancouver Island, which reached a near-record peak two years ago, has almost disappeared, the Department of Agriculture reported yesterday.

Natural parasites have gained the ascendancy in the cyclic battle between the caterpillars and their enemies, department officials said.

As a result, the apple crop will be about average this year. Strawberries are nearly finished and reports from most areas indicate the yield was good, although other sections suffered from red steel disease.

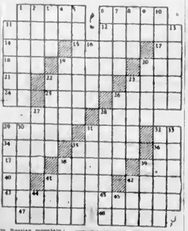

Very light crops are expected for sweet cherries, plums, prunes and pears. Sour cherries, on the other hand are expected to produce a fairly good crop.

With better-than-average rainfall this Spring, vegetable crops are generally reported to be good.

...THE FILTER TIP for particular people

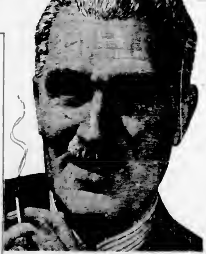

WHAT THE FILTER TIP DOES

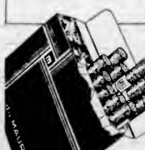

It stops particles of tobacco getting into the throat.

It is the common-sense method of preventing smoker's throat because it effectively retains irritants.

It guards physical fitness.

It brings out the flavour and makes the smoke delightfully sweet and cool.

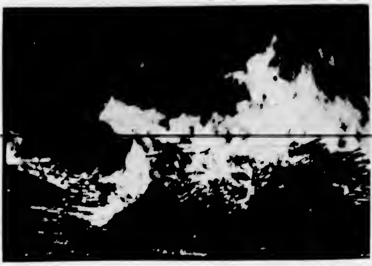

In the heart of the rich Virginia tobacco leaf a rare fragrance is hidden—a fragrance which had never been tasted until du Maurier produced their exclusive filter tip. Only when the smoke of burning tobacco is filtered and refined: only when every harsh irritant is trapped before it reaches your lips: only when you light your first du Maurier cigarette, will you know and enjoy this rich new pleasure.

There'll never be a better cigarette

Lumber Burns During Sawmill Fire

Some 500,000 board feet of lumber went up in smoke and another 500,000 was saved as Western Forest Industries' sawmill and powerhouse at Honeymoon Bay, Lake Cowichan, burned to ground Saturday night with loss of $2,000,000. Upper photo shows pile of lumber blazing in mill yard. Lower photo shows twisted wreckage of main mill after fire.

Plan to Rebuild Both Fire-Razed Sawmills on Island Lumber Officials Announce After Damage Survey

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Gibson Brothers will immediately begin rebuilding their fire-destroyed sawmill and power plant at Tahsis, 200 miles northwest of Victoria, a company official told The Daily Colonist yesterday by telephone from Vancouver.

The mill on the shore of Tahsis canal near Zeballos on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, was [illegible] igin which broke out at 4 a.m. Monday in the mill boiler house and burned until 1 p.m., when firemen held it under control.

Damage, covered by insurance, was between $400,000 and $500,000. Saved were the planer mill, blacksmith's shop and machine shop, a few yards distant from the main mill. No casualties were reported.

SECOND FIRE

It was the Island's second spectacular sawmill blaze in 36 hours. Western Forest Industries' mill and power house at Honeymoon Bay on Cowichan Lake burned Saturday night with a loss of $2,000,000.

Jack Stothers, Honeymoon Bay mill manager, announced that work of clearing debris and re-building of Western Forest Industries' mill will start immediately after insurance adjustors have surveyed the damage. It will take a year to rebuild.

Meanwhile, all but 30 of the 500 employees have been laid off. The 30 will be set to work in the undamaged shingle mill, which is expected to re-open in ten days when an auxiliary power supply is set up.

Honeymoon Bay community will be without light and power until the auxiliary supply is installed, and the shingle mill and machine shop will be unable to operate.

All but a few employees of the Tahsis mill will work on rebuilding, an official of Gibson Brothers said.

"We'll start rebuilding as soon as the embers die. There will be jobs for every man, excepting a few specialists."

TWO SHIFTS

[illegible] has been turning out some 175,000 board feet of lumber daily in two shifts.

About 150 men in logging camps supplying the Tahsis mill will continue to work, a company official said. There are 50 men at Tahsis camp, five miles distant; 40 men at Sandspit, ten miles south; and 50 men at Chamiss Bay, 45 miles north. Another camp at Jeune Landing, eight miles north of Port Alice, supplies logs to Port Alice pulp mill.

Boilermen "firing up" for the 8 a.m. shift saw flames in the Tahsis mill at 4 a.m., and set the alarm whistle shrieking. All millworkers turned out to fight the blaze, but they could not block its spread to the powerhouse.

Flames knocked out the steam pumps in the powerhouse, as they did in the Honeymoon Bay blaze, and firefighters fell back upon auxiliary supplies.

ABUNDANT WATER

Drawing abundant water from the gravity system running from a creek on Tahsis River and bringing portable equipment to pump fresh water from the river and salt water from the canal, they hosed the planer mill, blacksmith's shop and machine shop and checked spread of the flames.

Meanwhile, yard men rushed to their stations and wheeled 500,000 board feet of lumber to safety with Hyster lift trucks and stackers.

Two more pumps were flown from Vancouver later in the morning. By about 1 p.m. the fire was reported under control, though ruins were still smouldering.

[illegible] Gibson, president, and [illegible] G. Gordon, general manager, flew to Tahsis early Monday morning to supervise operations and survey damage. They could not be reached for a statement. Failure of the power supply knocked out the radio-telephone in the company office, the community's only voice link with the outside world.

The first report of the fire came from the fishboat Tahsis Chief, which radioed an alarm. Yesterday afternoon a Queen Charlotte Airways plane brought news to the company's head office in Vancouver.

Tahsis village, about a quarter of a mile from the blaze, was not threatened.

SLASH FIRE

Two weeks ago a slash fire burned almost to the doors of the mill. There was a little damage then to standing timber and cold decks.

Western Forest Industries' officials have been conferring on plans to rebuild the Honeymoon Bay mill. Several officials flew to the site, Sunday. A directors' meeting is slated to be held in Vancouver soon to discuss plans for a new, modern mill.

Saved from the blaze were the machine shop, crammed with machinery worth thousands of dollars, a shingle mill, burner, office building and one planer mill. Besides the main mill and powerhouse, a "swede" mill and a new planer mill were destroyed.

WERE HEROIC

Volunteer fire fighters worked heroically with Ross carriers and stackers to save 500,000 feet of lumber in the main yard. Another [illegible] motors, as well as tools and electrical equipment, were destroyed in the mills.

Volunteer-manned fire trucks from B.C. Forest Products Youbou operations, Hillcrest Lumber Co., Mesachie Lake, and Lake Cowichan village came to aid in fighting the flames. An inhalator and a pump-truck were sent from Duncan.

More than 100 men fought the fire all night under direction of fire warden Bob Taylor, retired Victoria deputy fire chief. Only casualties were superficial burns.

A locomotive and speeder were pulled to a safe siding by tractors. Two tractor cars and part of a rail loading deck were burned. Storage drums of gasoline and oil were rushed clear.

A southeast wind drove flames and sparks away from the community and sent the fire roaring through the mill.

Filing cabinets were removed through windows from the wooden office building, across the road from the mill. The building was saved.

There are some 70 houses in the Honeymoon Bay model village. Most new homes and the community hall stand well away from the mill site, but houses on the lake shore and East Indian bunkhouses, to the west of the mill, were in the path of the flames.

Some residents started to remove their furniture, fearing flying embers would fire their homes. Sheets of corrugated iron were thrown hundreds of feet in the air by the force of flames and fire-created wind.

Possibly one of the most crestfallen employees of the Honeymoon [illegible] to the Island with Mrs. Lawson recently after Fraser River floods deprived him of his job at Harrison Mills. However, he may be luckier this time, because he is an employee of the shingle mill, scheduled to re-open soon.

The Honeymoon Bay mill, with a daily production of some 200,000 board feet of lumber, is supplied by three logging camps. One is on the North Shore Road, a few miles from Lake Cowichan. The second is at Gordon River, 12 miles inland from Honeymoon Bay, and the third, which started about a month ago, brings logs by truck to a railway siding near Mesachie Lake and transports them by rail to the mill.

Playgrounds In Saanich Open July 12

Representatives from Saanich playgrounds reported on progress being made towards opening of parks on July 12 at a meeting of the Saanich Recreation Council last night.

E. P. Cummins was introduced as the supervisor of Saanich playgrounds this year. He will accompany Mrs. E. C. Head and Mrs. F. Blaus on a tour of playgrounds on Wednesday.

W. Beddington presented two pictures of the Saanich Recreation Council float to council members.

H. D. Schemilt, sports convenor, reported that the second half of the playground softball schedule will soon be ready. Registration pamphlets have already been issued to playground chairmen, it was announced.

GET PLAY-YARD

Mrs. C. H. Roberts, chairman of Gorge playground, told representatives a 12-foot play-yard for small children has been added to the park. Chairman of the Playfair playground, Mrs. U. Urton, also gave a report on summer playground plans.

Teeter-totters and slides are being made by volunteer help for the Tolmie playground, according to Mrs. J. K. Balcombe, chairman. Strawberry Vale school playground was officially opened yesterday, it was reported.

Mrs. J. Jones, chairman of the Strawberry Vale Hall Playground said new equipment including swings, see-saws and playbars have been added to the site. Extra swings and a merry-go-round made by volunteer help have been donated to the Rainbow playground, R. J. Saunders told the meeting.

Mr. Schemilt, chairman of Rudd Park said a cement base had been made for tables and an outdoor barbecue added. Q'Appelle Park has received a sand box and airplane merry-go-round, Mrs. E. Blaus, chairman, said.

Cedar Hill Playground was represented by D. Frankham. M. H. Schop, chairman of the Gordon Head Park, stated additions to equipment have been made.

Each playground has a voluntary committee of parents to aid supervisors, the council reported.

Meat Prices Continue High

Although there still appears to be a certain amount of buying resistance, city retail meat dealers stated yesterday Victoria housewives appear to have resigned themselves to current beef prices.

Despite a Vancouver report that beef specials on Saturday were marked down five and one cents below current prices no corresponding drop was experienced on the Victoria market. Wholesale and retail beef prices are unchanged, dealers state. Some stores recorded a slight increase in beef sales during the week-end.

Bells Peal for Bridal Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Victor Boniface were greeted by a peal of bells played by fellow-bell ringers of the former, following their marriage on Saturday evening at Christ Church Cathedral. Very Rev. Spencer H. Elliott officiated at the ceremony uniting Bessie Ada, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Griffin, 408 Dallas Road, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Boniface, 2912 Prior Street. The pretty bride, given away by her father, was gowned in ivory satin fashioned with net yoke edged with tiny satin roses, and skirt with draped panniers. Her veil of illusion net was held under a coronet of embroidered satin. The bridal bouquet was composed of deep red roses and white sweet peas showered with the latter.

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. Doris Lewis, matron of honor, in pale blue, and Miss Irene Boniface, sister of the groom, bridesmaid, in pale pink, their gowns styled in eyelet-jersey over taffeta. Their halos were of ruffled mohair with inserts of flowers, and they carried pink carnations and sweet peas. Little Sharon Griffin, niece of the bride, was the flower girl in a long yellow frock with wreath of flowers in her hair and a Colonial bouquet.

Mr. Bert Boniface was best man for his brother, and ushers were Mr. Wilfred Boniface, another brother, and Mr. Robert Lewis.

The reception was held in the K. of P. Hall, where Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. Boniface welcomed the guests with the young couple. The toast was given by Mr. Fred Marconi. During the evening, Mrs. Iris Paver sang "Because."

Leaving for a honeymoon in Vancouver and at Qualicum Beach, the bride wore a smart gray and wine ensemble with corsage of pink roses and gardenias. Mr. and Mrs. Boniface will make their home in Victoria.

Australian Team Makes High Total

BRISTOL, England, July 5 (Reuters). — The Australian cricket team today raced to the season's highest total of 774 for seven wickets declared when it continued its first innings against Gloucestershire here.

At the close of play, the county had replied with 261 for seven wickets.

Australia's mammoth total was the second greatest score ever by an Australian eleven in England.

In today's deal the defenders made it as tough as possible for the declarer, but the latter was not to be balked.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♦	1 ♠	3 ♦	2 ♠
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	Pass
Pass

South's last bid was aggressive, but not illogical. With North showing the values for even a single raise, South's very fair trump suit, his singleton diamond, and the fact that he could fit either hearts or clubs in North's hand, indicated that there should be a fair play for game.

West opened his fourth highest diamond; East won with the king and laid down the diamond ace. South ruffed and cashed the trump ace, taking due notice of the ten-spot played by West. A trump lead to the king revealed the true situation, and now, of course, South had a trump tenace over East's jack-eight.

There was considerable work to be be done, however, before East's trumps could be safely extracted, or to be more explicit, before South could afford to give up the last trump in dummy. He led a low heart, and when East ducked, won with the king. Now a heart return was ducked in dummy, and fortunately enough, East had to play the ace.

East realized that a club return might be playing directly into declarer's hands, and therefore he chose the more embarrassing lead of another diamond, despite the fact that dummy, as well as South, was now out of that suit. South could not afford to shorten his own trumps, so he ruffed in dummy while he discarded his own last heart. On the heart-queen lead, East ruffed and South over-ruffed. Declarer now drew the last trump, then went to the club ace in dummy and returned the remaining heart, passing it to West.

West had had to give up every diamond to guard hearts and clubs, and now he had to lead from the club queen to declarer's tenace.

Extra-Inning Victory for Victoria Gives Norbertmen Series Edge, 5-3—Tars Coming

Victoria Athletics yesterday won their second series in five days from the leading Tacoma Tigers. The Norbertmen maintained their extra-inning record by dropping the Bengals, 7-5, in the afterpiece of a holiday double-header which went two extra innings before it was decided. The Tigers won the first battle, 11-4. In two games Sunday, the clubs battled to a 2-2 stalemate in a ten-inning fixture ended by the curfew after the A's had punched out a 10-4 triumph in the opener.

The result gave Victoria a 3-1 edge in the Tacoma series and a 5-3 edge in the gruelling five-day stretch of games between the two clubs.

Joe Blankenship again came to the rescue of the A's yesterday as he notched his 13th victory of the season in a relief role, taking over from Len Kasparovitch in the sixth when the Tigers threatened to tie it up.

Tacoma did tie it up in the seventh, however, when two singles, a sacrifice and an outfield fly produced the one run necessary to overcome the early 5-1 lead the A's had established. Blankenship shut the door from there while his teammates put on a rally at the expense of Jim Gleason, fourth Tacoma hurler, in the ninth. Singles by Charlie Balassi, Lou Kubiek, Jack Palmer and Babe Jensen and an infield out produced two runs.

With both clubs shy of pitchers after playing nine games in five days, a pair of outfielders opposed each other on the mound in the first game. Slugging Dick Greco went the distance for the Tigers and managed to scatter eight hits effectively. His mates jumped on Al Goot for seven runs in the first two innings. Goot was relieved by Roy Gilmore, spare outfielder, who fared much better than his predecessor.

Balassi and Vic Buccola connected for Victoria home runs, each coming with the bases empty. Balassi's came in the ninth inning of the first game and Buccola's in the second frame of the finale.

Athletics are idle today but open another crucial series with the Bremerton Bluejackets here tomorrow. Single games tomorrow, Thursday and Friday will be followed by the regular Saturday afternoon and evening games. Bill Harmsen is the likely mound choice for the A's. Jim Propst, who pulled a leg muscle on Saturday, is the only other hurler on the staff who has not seen action in the last two days.

Citation Equals Record Set by Stablemate

CITATION, with Jockey Eddie Arcaro up, captured $56,100 Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington Park yesterday before 46,490 spectators, largest crowd in history of track. Calumet Farm's fabulous three-year-old registered his seventh successive triumph in racing to two-length victory in punishing ride by Arcaro. Triple crown winner ran 1¼ miles in 1:46 1-5 to equal track record which another Calumet flyer, Armed, set in winning same Stars and Stripes last year. Citation (left) and Armed are seen above as they arrived at Arlington Park. With them is Ben Jones, Calumet's master trainer.

Bosox Edge Yanks In Holiday Games

Boston Red Sox, still very much in the American League pennant race, gained ground yesterday when they handed the New York Yankees a disastrous double setback, 6-5 and 8-7, while Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Athletics split their holiday doubleheaders.

Veteran righthander Denny Galehouse gained credit for both Bosox triumphs in relief roles. The Yankees scored five runs in the last two innings of the first game after Jack Kramer had pitched scoreless baseball for seven frames but Galehouse stopped them cold. The Red Sox came from behind to tie the score in the eighth inning of the finale on Bobby Doerr's two-run homer—his third circuit blast of the day—and won it in the ninth on Dom DiMaggio's hit.

Bob Lemon, who pitched a no-hitter his last time out, won the first game for Cleveland, 6-3, but Detroit Tigers salvaged the nightcap, 7-5, when Pat Mullin clouted a three-run homer in the eighth. The loss went to Bob Feller, who relieved Starter Sam Zoldak.

After bowing to Washington, 3-1 in the opener, the Athletics bounced back to swamp the Senators, 12-5, and retain their grip on second place. In the other junior loop games, Chicago's White Sox defeated St. Louis Browns twice to climb within a game and a half of seventh place.

Ralph Kiner and the Brooklyn Dodgers shared the National League spotlight. Kiner rapped out three home runs, bringing his total to 23, as Pittsburgh Pirates split a double bill with Cincinnati. The Brooks downed Philadelphia Phillies twice to move back into sixth place.

St. Louis Cardinals regained second place and gained a full game on the Boston Braves by taking two from Chicago Cubs while New York Giants broke even with league leaders. Les Layton's second home run gave the New Yorkers a 13-inning, 6-5 decision over Johnny Sain.

Timbermen Defeat Aces To Extend Softball Lead

HOW THEY STAND

Timber Service	11	4	.733
Douglas Tire	8	4	.692
Brentwood Aces	8	8	.571
Navy	3	8	.258

Next game, tomorrow: Brentwood Aces vs. Navy, Upper Central, 6:45 p.m.

Timber Service moved a full game in front of Douglas Tire in the senior "A" softball pennant race last night by trimming Brentwood Aces, 9-6, before a large crowd.

Seven Brentwood errors and Pitcher Furmeston's lack of control played a big part in the Suburbanites' downfall.

Timbermen moved in front with a three-run cluster in the second inning when Furmeston's three-base error on a sacrifice bunt accounted for the first two tallies. Another error by Furmeston in the third frame was responsible for two more markers.

Trailing 6-5 in the last of the ninth, the Aces threatened to tie the score. Sluggett's double and three errors by the winners produced one run and left runners on first and third with one out, but Phil Benn was cut down on an attempted steal to end the threat.

Werner's C.Y.O. swamped Post Office, 22-6, in a senior "C" fixture.

New Method eked out a 7-6 decision over Spencers in an extra-inning women's senior "B" tilt. The Laundry girls tallied twice in the top of the eighth and held the tying run on second after the losers had scored once in the bottom of the inning.

Jackets Half-Game Out

Bremerton Bluejackets missed a chance to tie for the W.I.L. lead last night when rain washed out the second contest of a double-header with the Vancouver Capilanos in the eighth inning. The teams were tied, 4-4, after the Jackets had managed to tie it up in the bottom of the final frame. They won the seven-inning opener, 4-3.

Ed Murphy and Ed Samcoff sparked the winners in the first game. Each drove in two runs—Murphy with two doubles and a single, and Samcoff with a triple, double and single. Murph's triple was the big blow in the three-run Bremerton first inning in the second game.

At Spokane, the Indians copped the first game from Yakima Packers, with Frank Nelson gaining credit for his 11th win. Nelson, who finished his first 16 starts, needed relief for the second game in succession.

Hub Kittle, Yakima manager, had a no-hitter for five innings in the second fixture. Dick Discalso, new Spokane catcher, singled to start the sixth for the first hit off Kittle. The Packers finally won in the tenth, 7-6.

Rich Handicap To My Request

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Ben Whitaker's My Request sizzled to an easy victory in the $77,300 Dwyer Stakes at Aqueduct today, proving he'd probably be wearing the 1948 three-year-old crown were it not for a couple of colts named Citation and Coaltown.

The chestnut son of Requested-Sugapud steamed down the long stretch under a red-hot ride by Toronto-born jockey Ted Atkinson, whipping King Ranch's Better Self by four lengths to pick up a $39,300 purse for his Texas owner. Alfred Vanderbilt's 50-1 shot Loser Weeper was third, half a length back of Better Self in a field of seven.

Hobson Takes Graphic Arts Golf Tourney

Gordon Hobson of The Daily Colonist reportorial staff emerged the winner over 83 other divoters in the 12th annual Graphic Arts golf tournament at Uplands on Sunday. Hobson scored a net 60 to lead the field by four strokes.

Runner-up was Stan Sylvester with 64 and third was Gordie Langley with 65.

Hobson, a 30-handicapper, was in rare form and finished in a blaze of glory to score a gross 90. The new champion was presented with the Norman P. Hall Trophy during the enjoyable get-together following the competition.

As usual, Bob Morrison, former city champion, posted the low net with a 73 to cop the first prize in that department. Colin Campbell was second with a 79 while Alex Walker finished third with 83.

The brand of golf was not too bad. A mere 136 won for Doc Rutherford the prize for highest score.

Lardier; high score second nine, Tom McDonald; low gross visitors, R. Jackson; low net visitors, Bert Ray; second low net visitors, Charles Hutton, Frank Taschner.

Australian XI May Play Here

The Dominion Cricket Tournament will be played at Brockton Point Oval in Vancouver from August 2 to August 7 with teams from British Columbia, Ontario, Alberta and Manitoba competing for the Hiram Walker Trophy. The B.C. and Ontario elevens are co-defenders of the trophy which they shared last year.

Visiting here this week, Noel Buckley of Vancouver, publicity man for the B.C. Cricket Association, believes that this year's British Columbia team will be the strongest ever. Players will be selected shortly from Victoria and Vancouver teams.

Negotiations are under way for the Australian test cricketers to play here on their way home from England. Don Bradman, captain of the Aussies, has written B.C. officials expressing a wish to see the province again.

Bombers Swamp Visitors, 25-0

The Victoria Baseball Association will hold a league meeting tonight at Royal Athletic Park at 6:30 p.m. All teams are requested to have delegates present. A league fixture between Ben's Bombers and Eagles will follow at 7 p.m.

Last night the Bombers swamped a team from the U.S.S. Duluth, 25-0, in an exhibition fixture under the lights. Bill Prior and Frank Scroggs combined to hold the Americans to three scattered hits while their teammates blasted out 30. The Bomber barrage included a nine-run inning, highlighted by Rookie Wright's grand-slam home run.

Bookie Loses Appeal on Bet

LONDON, July 6 (AP). — The "supreme court" of British handbook betting decided today that Rachel Evans has £41,250 ($165,000) coming to her for her flyer on the 66-1 shot, Regret, in the Manchester Handicap last November.

Her bookmaker had disputed payment of Miss Evans' winnings on a bet of £500 to win and place, claiming he limited wagers by mail to £2.

The Tattersalls committee, a bookmakers' organization recognized by the Jockey Club as the final arbiter in betting, decided for Miss Evans.

Canuck Riflemen Place Well Down

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 6 (CP)—The only two Canadians who entered were well down today in the Kneeling Service Match at 300 yards as the great Empire meet of the National Rifle Association got under way.

The heavy shooting in the historic competitions does not start until Saturday, winding up on July 17 with the final stage of the classic King's Prize.

In the kneeling match four Britons tied for top place with scores of 34 out of a possible 35. Flt.-Sgt. T. W. Gregory of Ottawa and Saint John was 16th with a score of 29, among the first-class entries, while in the second class Sgt. Martin Ostergaard of Calgary, not a member of the official Canadian team, wound up with 30 in 14th place.

Major A. D. Robertson of Montreal had a perfect score, five bull's eyes at 200 yards, but it was in one of the sweepstakes events.

Falkenburg Says Net Officials At Wimbledon Tourney 'Partial'

PARIS, July 5 (AP).—Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood, Calif., who won the Wimbledon tennis championship last week, said in an interview today he thought Wimbledon referees, linesmen and spectators were "the most partial I've ever seen in my life."

Falkenburg said some British newspapers and spectators at the Wimbledon tournament ragged him and his fellow Americans almost unrelentingly.

He said decisions of the referees and linesmen were directed particularly against the Americans. Adding that linesmen frequently called balls outside before they hit the ground, he said "some of them sent up a cloud of white powder from the line when they hit, showing they were really inside."

As an example of newspaper criticism, he referred to an incident in his match with Gardnar Mulloy of Miami. Mulloy, he said, served a ball which both players agreed was a "let" ball although the referee called it good.

The referee refused to change his decision despite the argument of both participants. Because of the argument, Falkenburg said, one London newspaper called the Americans "quarrelsome."

The tennis writer of one morning newspaper, however, said he felt the tall, lanky champion had been given a "raw deal" and that he intended to do something about it. "He did, too, in a very decent article," Falkenburg said.

He added that one British photographer took a picture of him lying on a couch and reading a newspaper in his room. The caption read, he said, "Falkenburg lies down at home and on the tennis courts, too."

A's, Tigers Divide Holiday Twin Bill

Extra-Inning Victory for Victoria Gives Norbertmen Series Edge, 5-3—Tars Coming

HOW THEY STAND

	W.	L.	Pct.

Vancouver	40	40	.534

Victoria Athletics yesterday won their second series in five days from the leading Tacoma Tigers. The Norbertmen maintained their extra-inning record by dropping the Bengals, 7-5, in the afterpiece of a holiday double-header which went two extra innings before it was decided. The Tigers won the first battle, 11-4. In two games Sunday, the clubs battled to a 2-2 stalemate in a ten-inning fixture ended by the curfew after the A's had punched out a 10-4 triumph in the opener.

The result gave Victoria a 2-1 edge in the Tacoma series and a 6-5 edge in the gruelling five-day stretch of games between the two clubs.

Joe Blankenship again came to the rescue of the A's yesterday as he notched his 13th victory of the season in a relief role, taking over from Len Kasparovitch in the sixth when the Tigers threatened to tie it up.

Tacoma did tie it up in the seventh, however, when two singles, a sacrifice and an outfield fly produced the one run necessary to overcome the early 5-1 lead the A's had established. Blankenship shut the door from there while his teammates put on a rally at the expense of Jim Gleason, fourth Tacoma hurler, in the ninth. Singles by Charlie Balassi, Lou Kubiak, Jack Palmer and Babe Jensen and an infield out produced two runs.

With both clubs shy of pitchers after playing nine games in five days, a pair of outfielders opposed each other on the mound in the first game. Slugging Dick Greco went the distance for the Tigers and managed to scatter eight hits effectively. His mates jumped on Al Goot for seven runs in the first two innings. Goot was relieved by Roy Gilmore, spare outfielder, who fared much better than his predecessor.

Balassi and Vic Buccola connected for Victoria home runs, each coming with the bases empty. Balassi's came in the ninth inning of the first game and Buccola's in the second frame of the finale.

Athletics are idle today but open another crucial series with the Bremerton Bluejackets here tomorrow. Single games tomorrow, Thursday and Friday will be followed by the regular Saturday afternoon and evening games. Bill Harmsen is the likely mound choice for the A's. Jim Propst, who pulled a leg muscle on Saturday, is the only other hurler on the staff who has not seen action in the last two days.

Jackets Half-Game Out

Bremerton Bluejackets missed a chance to tie for the W.I.L. lead last night when rain washed out the second contest of a double-header with the Vancouver Capilanos in the eighth inning. The teams were tied, 4-4, after the Jackets had managed to tie it up in the bottom of the final frame. They won the seven-inning opener, 4-2.

Ed Murphy and Ed Samcoff sparked the winners in the first game. Each drove in two runs—Morphy with two doubles and a single, and Samcoff with a triple, double and single. Murph's triple was the big blow in the three-run Bremerton first inning in the second game.

At Spokane, the Indians copped the first game from Yakima Packers, with Frank Nelson gaining credit for his 11th win. Nelson, who finished his first 16 starts, needed relief for the second game in succession.

Hub Kittle, Yakima manager, had a no-hitter for five innings in the second fixture. Dick Discalso, new Spokane catcher, singled to start the sixth for the first hit off Kittle. The Packers finally won in the tenth, 7-6.

Rich Handicap To My Request

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Ben Whitaker's My Request sizzled to an easy victory in the $77,300 Dwyer Stakes at Aqueduct today, proving he'd probably be wearing the 1948 three-year-old crown were it not for a couple of colts named Citation and Coaltown.

The chestnut son of Requested-Sugapud steamed down the long stretch under a red-hot ride by Toronto-born jockey Ted Atkinson, whipping King Ranch's Better Self by four lengths to pick up a $39,200 purse for his Texas owner. Alfred Vanderbilt's 50-1 shot Loser Weeper was third, half a length back of Better Self in a field of seven.

Bookie Loses Appeal on Bet

LONDON, July 6 (AP) — The "supreme court" of British handbook betting decided today that Rachel Evans has $41,250 ($165,000) coming to her for her flyer on the 66-1 shot, Regret, in the Manchester Handicap last November.

Her bookmaker had disputed payment of Miss Evans' winnings on a bet of £500 to win and place, claiming he limited wagers by mail to £2.

Canuck Riflemen Place Well Down

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 6 (CP)—The only two Canadians who entered were well down today in the Kneeling Service Match at 300 yards as the great Empire meet of the National Rifle Association got under way.

The heavy shooting in the historic competitions does not start until Saturday, winding up on July 17 with the final stage of the classic King's Prize.

In the kneeling match four Britons tied for top place with scores of 34 out of a possible 35. Flt.-Sgt. T. W. Gregory of Ottawa and Saint John was 16th with a score of 29, among the first-class entries, while in the second class Sgt. Martin Ostergaard of Calgary, not a member of the official Canadian team, wound up with 29 to 14th place.

Major A. D. Robertson of Montreal had a perfect score, five bull's eyes at 200 yards, but it was in one of the sweepstakes events.

Citation Equals Record Set by Stablemate

Timbermen Defeat Aces To Extend Softball Lead

Navy	2	5	.250

Next game, tomorrow: Brentwood Aces vs. Navy, Upper Central, 6.45 p.m.

Timber Service moved a full game in front of Douglas Tire in the senior "A" softball pennant race last night by trimming Brentwood Aces, 6-6, before a large crowd.

Seven Brentwood errors and Pitcher Furmeston's lack of control played a big part in the Suburbanites' downfall.

Timbermen moved in front with a three-run cluster in the second inning when Furmeston's three-base error on a sacrifice bunt accounted for the first two tallies. Another error by Furmeston in the third frame was responsible for two more markers.

Trailing 6-5 in the last of the ninth, the Aces threatened to tie the score. Sluggett's double and three errors by the winners produced one run and left runners on first and third with one out, but Phil Benn was cut down on an attempted steal to end the threat.

Close decisions marked senior "B" games. B.C. Forest Products pushed over the winning run in the top of the ninth to nip Penguin Cafe, 7-6, while Selkirk Lumber edged Garrison, 8-7.

Warner's C.Y.O. swamped Post Office, 22-6, in a senior "C" fixture.

New Method aked out a 7-6 decision over Spencers in an extra-inning women's senior "B" till. The Laundry girls tallied twice in the top of the eighth and held the tying run on second after the losers had scored once in the bottom of the inning.

Falkenburg Says Net Officials At Wimbledon Tourney 'Partial'

PARIS, July 6 (AP)—Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood, Calif., who won the Wimbledon tennis championship last week, said in an interview today he thought Wimbledon referees, linesmen and spectators were "the most partial I've ever seen in my life."

Falkenburg said some British newspapers and spectators at the Wimbledon tournament ragged him and his fellow Americans almost unrelentingly.

He said decisions of the referees and linesmen were directed particularly against the Americans. Adding that linesmen frequently called balls outside before they hit the ground, he said "some of them sent up a cloud of white powder from the line when they hit, showing they were really inside."

As an example of newspaper criticism, he referred to an incident in his match with Gardnar Mulloy of Miami. Mulloy, he said, served a ball which both players agreed was a "let" ball although the referee called it good.

The referee refused to change his decision despite the argument of both participants. Because of the argument, Falkenburg said, one London newspaper called the Americans "quarrelsome."

The tennis writer of one morning newspaper, however, said he felt the tall, lanky champion had been given a "raw deal" and that he intended to do something about it. "He did, too, in a very decent article," Falkenburg said.

He added that one British photographer took a picture of him lying on a couch and reading a newspaper in his room. The caption read, he said, "Falkenburg lies down at home and on the tennis courts, too."

Australian XI May Play Here

The Dominion Cricket Tournament will be played at Brockton Point Oval in Vancouver from August 5 to August 7 with teams from British Columbia, Ontario, Alberta and Manitoba competing for the Hiram Walker Trophy. The B.C. and Ontario elevens are co-defenders of the trophy which they shared last year.

Visiting here this week, Noel Buckley of Vancouver, publicity man for the B.C. Cricket Association, believes that this year's British Columbia team will be the strongest ever. Players will be selected shortly from Victoria and Vancouver teams.

Negotiations are under way for the Australian test cricketers to play here on their way home from England. Don Bradman, captain of the Aussies, has written B.C. officials expressing a wish to see the province again.

Bosox Edge Yanks In Holiday Games

Boston Red Sox, still very much in the American League pennant race, gained ground yesterday when they handed the New York Yankees a disastrous double setback, 5-5 and 8-7, while Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Athletics split their holiday doubleheaders.

Veteran righthander Denny Galehouse gained credit for both Bosox triumphs in relief roles. The Yankees scored five runs in the last two innings of the first game after Jack Kramer had pitched scoreless baseball for seven frames but Galehouse stopped them cold. The Red Sox came from behind to tie the score in the eighth inning of the finale on Bobby Doerr's two-run homer—his third circuit blast of the day—and won it in the ninth on Dom DiMaggio's hit.

Bob Lemon, who pitched a no-hitter his last time out, won the first game for Cleveland, 6-3, but Detroit Tigers salvaged the nightcap, 7-5, when Pat Mullin clouted a three-run homer in the eighth. The loss went to Bob Feller, who relieved Starter Sam Zoldak.

After bowing to Washington, 2-1, in the opener, the Athletics bounced back to swamp the Senators, 12-5, and retain their grip on second place. In the other junior loop games, Chicago's White Sox defeated St. Louis Browns twice to climb within a game and a half of seventh place.

Ralph Kiner and the Brooklyn Dodgers shared the National League spotlight. Kiner rapped out three home runs, bringing his total to 23, as Pittsburgh Pirates split a double bill with Cincinnati. The Brooks downed Philadelphia Phillies twice to move back into sixth place.

St. Louis Cardinals regained second place and gained a full game on the Boston Braves by taking two from Chicago Cubs while New York Giants broke even with league leaders. Les Layton's second home run gave the New Yorkers a 13-inning, 6-5 decision over Johnny Sain.

By GRANTLAND RICE

In stepping around from heelprint to heelprint, from trap to trap, from bunker to pond, you pick up details the average golfer likes to hear.

It was in this way we ran into Johnny Farrell, the veteran pro at Baltusrol, who won the United States [illegible] Chicago. A line instructor. One of the best.

The slender, grey-haired Irishman with the quick smile had something to say about Bobby Locke. But, before that, we talked about his match with Bobby Jones in Chicago some 20 years ago.

Johnny Farrell was the greatest stretch runner in the history of golf in that famous play-off.

"In the morning round," Farrell said, "I wasn't doing any too well until I hit the last of the stretch. The four final holes were parred at 5-5-4-5. I finished 4-6-6-4 — four birdies, and Bobby wasn't far away.

"It was the same in the afternoon," Johnny said. "I finished again with four birdies—4-3-2-4. Bobby had three birdies. On the 17th hole, Bob had to hole a 20-footer, and I had to hole a 2-footer. I had to hole a 16-footer on the last green. That was a great match, and I needed eight birdies on the last four holes, morning and afternoon."

RATES HOGAN BEST

The conversation switched to Bobby Locke and Ben Hogan.

"No one," Johnny said, "can say there is a greater golfer than Ben Hogan. Hogan has a set, perfected swing. It is a marvelous piece of mechanism.

"Hogan is the finest concentrator I've ever seen in action, and the most determined golfer. Ben will outwork and outfight any golfer I know. I can understand what Bobby Jones meant when he said that Ben Hogan was the hardest working competitor he had ever known, no matter what the game.

"On the other side," Farrell said, "Bobby Locke, like Bobby Jones, has a swing that the average golfer can use."

THE TWO BOBBIES

"Bobby Locke," Johnny said, "isn't too much on power. He isn't as long as Snead, Hogan and others. But Locke has control.

"More than that, Locke has the type of swing that looks easy and natural. He hasn't Hogan's straight left—Hogan's definite method of swinging, where every detail is in place.

"They all said that Bobby Jones was lazy on his backswing. They all said he had a loop at the top of his swing. Both charges were true. The same is true of Bobby Locke. The South African has an easy-going method of reaching the top of his backswing. He isn't in any hurry to get there. And once he gets there, he is still a little floppy at the top. You know—nothing tightened up.

KILL TENSION

"The great thing in golf is to kill tension. Hogan shows tension through every part of his swing—controlled tension—control developed through countless hours of hard practice.

"Bobby Locke seems much simpler. Bobby swings the club head back, finishes his backswing, doesn't hurry his downswing — in fact, loafs at the top of his backswing—and then hits the ball. Bobby isn't any too good over a 7,000-yard course. But give him a 6,500-yard course which is still too long for the average golfer, and he'll murder you.

"Look what he did recently in Chicago. Sixteen or seventeen strokes ahead of the field. No contest. Locke is for the average golfer. Hogan, a greater golfer, isn't."

"Why is Locke for the average golfer?" I asked Johnny Farrell.

"Locke makes it easier," Farrell said. "Locke hasn't Hogan's set swing. But it is an easier swing. After all, we have had so many swings and types of swings that outside of Hogan you can't prove anything—I mean Skip Alexander, Lawson Little, Jimmy Demaret, Middlecoff, on and on. But Bobby Locke has the swing I like—the swing the average golfer can pick up and follow."

"What sort of swing is that?" I asked.

"You just take your two hands and swing the club head back," Farrell said. "Then you start the downswing. On your backswing you let the left side turn around. You don't leave your left shoulder and your left hip behind.

SIMPLE SWING

"Bobby Locke has been a big factor in bringing us back a simple swing. I thing Locke has added a lot for the average golfer—something the average golfer should know.

"But, the main point," Johnny Farrell continued, "is that Locke seems to follow the easier way. He doesn't seem to bother with what happens to his hands at the top of the swing. Locke is easy-looking and easy-going. Hogan is on the grim side. Golf should be an easier game to play—for fun."

Crown Titlists In Annual B.C.E. Tourney

Although scores were one-sided in most cases, a good brand of tennis featured play as new champions were crowned in all brackets in the B.C. Electric Tennis Club championships which concluded on Sunday. The final matches were played before a large gallery.

Feature match saw Dick Hincks triumph over Stan Bichard, 6-1, 6-2, to take the A. T. Goward Challenge Cup for the men's singles championship. Playing a strong, steady game, Hincks had it all his own way over Bichard, who failed to get his game under control.

Edna Hicks, a former two-time singles champion, was the star of the tourney, copping three titles. She defeated Win Elliott, 6-1, 6-3, to capture the women's singles; partnered Nancy Davies to overcome Ivy Hill and Naomi Webb, 6-8, 6-6, in the women's doubles, and with Vic Hicks, her husband, took the mixed doubles from Lorraine Carruthers and Stan Bichard, 6-4, 6-3.

Bichard was also in three finals, but managed to come through only in the men's doubles. He paired with Frank Boughey to win out over the Hicks brothers, Sid and Viv, by scores of 6-1, 6-3, and 6-4.

Men's consolation flight was won by Denny Forster who took the measure of Chuck Stevens, 6-1, 6-1. "Tommy" Elmsley was given a good game by Anne Walker, promising junior, before carrying off the women's consolation 6-1, 6-4.

Mrs. W. C. Mainwaring presented prizes. Mr. Mainwaring, honorary president, and Mr. Goward spoke briefly. The latter reported a larger membership this year than ever before in the history of the club.

Minor Baseball

Victoria Bottle Exchange midget baseball team played two games Up-Island on Sunday. In the morning they were shut out, 6-0, by Nanaimo intermediates and in the afternoon they bowed to a Duncan juvenile club 7-6.

Pacific Meat trimmed Nobles Warriors, 12-4, in a midget league game last night, while Spencers won from Eagles by default.

Bill Manson hurled James Bay Merchants to a 4-1 decision over J. H. and E. in a bantam league fixture.

Track Operators Grant Increase In Purses; Lambaste Tax System

VANCOUVER, July 5 (CP).—British Columbia race track operators yesterday granted horsemen a $100 purse increase, but simultaneously rapped the Provincial Government's pari-mutuel taxation system.

The increase, which boosted minimum purses to $600, followed a Government grant last night of one-twelfth of its 12 per cent tax on all pari-mutuel bets.

The Government said it was yielding the one per cent tax "on the distinct understanding the money would be used to increase purses." Consequently, track operators did not benefit one cent.

Last night horsemen and track operators planned to continue efforts to persuade the British Columbia Government to abandon the 5 per cent tax it took over from the Dominion Government.

"The Federal tax was a war measure only, and the Provincial Government had no right to take it over," declared Al Hardy, general manager of the B.C. Turf Club, which operates Lansdowne track.

British Columbia is the only province to commandeer the abandoned 5 per cent Federal levy. Most provinces take the prewar 7 per cent tax.

Last week the Dominion Government amended the Criminal Code to allow tracks 9 per cent of the pari-mutuel take, an increase of 2 per cent.

A $2 wager will be taxed in this way: 11 per cent by the Provincial Government, 9 per cent by the track operators and 1 per cent by the horsemen for their increased purses.

Trackmen said last night there has been a drop of 30 per cent in the pari-mutuel handle since racing opened this year. Saturday's handle was $124,447, a 15 per cent decrease against the $146,000 handle on the same day a year ago.

Track operators feel that the public, aware of the 21 per cent tax on their $2 bets, will not wager as freely as before.

Nanaimo Palaces In Second Win Over City Squads

HOW THEY STAND

	W	L	Pct
Nanaimo	7	1	.875
Jokers	8	2	.800
J.B.A.A.	3	7	.300
T.A.C.	2	6	.250
Foul Bay	2	6	.250

Next game, tonight: T.A.C. vs. Foul Bay, Stevenson Park, 6:30 p.m.

Scoring in three-goal clusters, Nanaimo Palaces trimmed J.B.A.A., 16-14, in a senior lacrosse game here on Sunday to mark up their second triumph in less than 24 hours over Victoria septettes.

Visitors overcame a 3-1 J.B.A.A. lead in the first period to take a 4-3 margin at the end of the quarter and notched three straight markers early in the second canto to hold a 7-5 lead at the half.

Two more three-goal clusters by Nanaimo in the third quarter sandwiched a pair of tallies by Al Denoni to give the visitors a commanding 13-7 margin at the final breather.

The teams set a fast pace in the final period with little checking as the oarsmen outscored the visitors, 7-5.

Denoni took scoring honors with six goals and one assist, while Earl Bennie and Don White paced the winners with five goals each.

Robert Cross Tops Derbyists; Forward $1,500 to Solarium

A 27-pound, 11-ounce spring salmon won the top fishing prize of a portable radio for Robert Cross, 728 Selkirk Avenue, in Sunday's third annual Solarium Derby at Saanich Inlet. Staged by the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association the event drew a large number of anglers and over $1,500 will be forwarded to the crippled children's institution.

Although fewer heavyweight salmon were taken in comparison with other years, the take per boat was judged to be the highest ever. Nearly every boat came back with some fish, with many jacksprings and bluebacks being caught.

Cross reeled in his big one near the Deep Hole in the morning. Along [illegible] he also carried off the Ed Duffin Trophy.

Harold Harrison of 1145 North Park Street took second prize of a cedar chest with a 25-pound, six-ounce specimen caught above the Stone House near the Deep Hole.

Third prize was captured by Cliff Heglin, 861 Fort Street. He landed a 21¼-pounder to win a chest of silver flatware. Next in line were J. Clyde, 2824 Rockwell Avenue, with a 16.3-pound specimen, picnic basket set, and George Simmons, 801 Craigflower Road, with an 16.16-pounder, English leather suitcase.

Page's Trophy, for the woman angler reeling in the largest salmon, went to Mrs. Dorothy Hunter, 730 Violet Street, who hooked a 11.6-pound specimen. Along with the trophy she won a large silver tray. Second was Mrs. Helen Allen, Gordon Head Camp, with a catch of 7¼ pounds, winning for her $25 in script.

Young Bev Smith was top junior in the Derby. He carried off the Jacob's Bakery Trophy and a wrist watch with a 10¼-pounder.

A fish weighing five ounces won for King Smith a special prize for the smallest catch.

Top prize of the Derby and first consolation award of a $500 combination radio and phonograph was taken by H. Jobson, St. Francis Hotel, Yates Street. Other consolation winners were W. M. Cook, Millstream Road, a rose bowl, and T. Brooks, 715 Johnson Street, a brush and shaving set.

Prizes were presented at the Anchorage clubhouse at Brentwood, where nearly 1,000 persons gathered for the ceremony.

Among those introduced to the crowd was Logan Mayhew, Solarium [illegible] was magnificent help. Almost $4,500 has been handed over to the Solarium as the result of the three Derbies since 1946. Introduced by President Les Dicks, Harry Woolston, past president, was applauded for his efforts in organizing Solarium Derbies. Bucky Kennett, president of the Cowichan Bay Salmon Club, also spoke briefly.

Other prize winners, with weights of catches and awards, follow:

A CHANGE IN OUR NAME
After Considerable Thought and Deliberation We Have Decided To Change Our Store Name
THE NEW NAME IS TO BE HOLMAN & CANNON USED FURNITURE
Naturally, it will take a little time for us and our customers to become familiar with this new name, but we believe, through the customers of Tom Dennow and those of Mack Holman, known as "Mack at Gray's," everyone should get a clear picture of the change this new name implies, in a short time.

Straith Rejects Appeal For New School District

Request of Up-Island residents for creation of a new school district to include Chemainus, Saltair, Westholme and Crofton has been turned down, Education Minister W. T. Straith said yesterday.

A delegation from the district made the request in a meeting with Mr. Straith early in June. They pointed out the boundary line between School Districts 65 and 67 ... area, one of the most heavily populated along the coast.

The delegation claimed that Chemainus and surrounding communities were required to pay a large share of school costs in each district but had nothing to show for it. Objection was taken particularly to the building of a high school in Ladysmith, to which all Chemainus pupils would have to go.

Mr. Straith said he had visited the district and found there were only 56 or 57 high school students in the Chemainus area, and this was not a sufficient number to warrant construction of a separate high school.

Construction of the school in Ladysmith will go ahead as planned, he said.

Mrs. Eva Dick was granted permission to transfer from Chemainus school to Ladysmith school. Appointments to Chemainus school include Miss Margaret H. Craig, Miss Margaret P. Muskett, and Miss Jean Kerr.

Two rural schools in the district are being reopened in September to accommodate an enlarged enrollment. New appointments announced are Mrs. Thelma Robertson, to Saltair school for primary Grades I and II, Mrs. Mildred E. Russell, to North Oyster school, Grades I, II and III.

QUEENSLAND, N.B. (CP)—Maritime cottagers have long followed the pleasant custom of giving their homes names with a nautical flavor but one here takes the fish cake. It is "No. 10 Drowning Street."

LIFE'S LIKE THAT By Fred Neher

"Were you expecting somebody else today, lady?"

MYSTERY HOUSE

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CHAPTER XXV

"Strange what breaks meals make in a day," Page said once to Barnes. "You never think of them. But a day seems so long without meals there's so much of it!"

At another time she said "Do you think a lot of food Barnes?"

"Of nothing else!" Barnes answered, cheerfully.

"Do you think it makes it easier?"

"I don't know. I know I can't help it."

They talked of food. Barnes talked of waffles soaked in hot butter and dripping with hot maple syrup. Page spoke most often of cold turkey—a cold turkey partly carved and standing on a pantry shelf. Cold biscuits and a cold turkey and hot chocolate!

"I've designed a sort of little revolving pantry, like a bookcase," she said. "No matter where I live I'm going to have it standing close to my bed. I'll have chocolate and nuts and crackers and cans of soup and a little alcohol stove on it, and coffee of course, and instant kind, and cheeses and cold meat and butter. In case I wake up in the night!"

"I was thinking of that," Barnes agreed. "I don't see why anyone ever stops eating."

"It doesn't seem possible anyone ever gets enough. Everyone ought to be feeding everyone else all the time," Page said.

They were man and woman and he loved her. But they had forgotten that, or if Barnes remembered it, it was only to feel in his heart an ache ... smiling young creature whose cheeks hollowed hour by hour, and whose beautiful eyes grew dazed with exhaustion and hunger. When she climbed back up the rocks from the beach her hand reached for Barnes' hand, sometimes at night she would waken from a brief unrestful sleep to find that he had moved her heavy head to his shoulder.

* * * * * *

Now she lay on the sun-washed bracken of the rocks sleepily, idly, staring at the blue sea upon which light was shining at last, and into whose long white blackness color and form had come. With the first light she and Barnes had gone about to the eastern face of the rock had sat there waiting and watching for the faintest sign of life on the shore that they might begin their calling and signaling. They had lighted a brush fire, the smoke of it went straight up into the clear blue ... fire would sense that someone was in trouble, out on the Rock! They would realise that picknickers would not be there so early in this season. No matter how unfriendly the townsfolk in Halfmoon Bay might be to the strange inmates of Mystery House they might begin to wonder if by day and by night fire and smoke showed out on the Rock Island.

Barnes came to join her, throwing himself down on the sparse chapparral and falling as she had into a daydream that was part weakness and part hunger, and silent largely because they two had said so many things to each other so many times.

"Lynn asleep?" he presently said.

"Yes." Page looked away and he saw her eyes filled with tears. "It isn't hurting him so much now," she said. "He'll just sleep, that way until he—doesn't wake up!"

"He's got a lot more strength than you think, Page."

"I know. But nobody could fight that."

There was another silence. After awhile Page broke it.

"They'll find us some day, and the grill, and the blanket, and think that we picknicked here, and that our boat was carried away."

"Listen, that's no way to talk! We'll get out of this."

"Well, I think we will. But if we don't. Do you suppose they've all gone away from Mystery House?"

"I think so. They probably got right out. Probably they'll split, they won't want to be identified. The old woman will go east and live somewhere. Harwod will go back to China—"

"I've thought it all out," Page said, in a long silence. "Mrs Prendergast probably was ill, perhaps dying and perhaps not, and Trudy Mockbee was thinking about the money. Flora came on to join her mother, and either the mother had a plan to kill the old lady, or they thought of it together. I think Mrs Prendergast—I mean my Mrs Prendergast!—did it alone! She promised Flora money and Europe and everything poor Flora's been starving for, if she would keep her mouth shut. And of course she is Flora's mother. Any woman would stand by her mother.

"Theo Lynn showed up, just at the end, and got in to see his grandmother who told him she was dying and put the diamond into his care. That upset all Trudy Mockbee's plans, and except for his being ill with some sort of oriental fever, she probably would have given up the whole thing, and two of the Chinese, a boy and an old man actually did die, and it seemed as if Lynn never would live to expose her. And right in there Rand came along, broke and with nothing but a lot of Chinese poisons left to show for all his years of work and he fitted right in, to play her game for her, manage the Chinese, fall in love with Flora, or let her fall in love with him, which was the one way of shutting up Flora, and keep Lynn doped. There's no question that the 'tonic' was some Chinese drug that confused his mind, especially as he was just convalescent after a terrible illness.

"Then Mrs. Hibbs happened to move here from Denver, and tried to see her aunt, and talked about the need of a nurse and then I came in."

She fell silent. The sun strengthened and glittered on the sea, and shadows from the upsweep of the Rock and from the gnarled trees that clung to it precariously fell softly on the boulders and sea grasses and shrubs that descended to the blue water.

"I think that what frightens me is that people can be so bad," Page said. "Why did she want the diamond? She had enough. If she let Mrs. Prendergast die, or helped her die, she could have gone away; there would have been plenty. But they wanted the Red Anna! It is costing Lynn's life, and maybe ours, and if they are ever found out it may cost them theirs!"

"If anything could be proved, it might," Barnes said. "But our saying that Flora deliberately left us out on the Rock wouldn't hang them, for if we get a chance to say it we won't be dead. And proving anything in the case of old Mrs Prendergast might be hard. She died, and a doctor signed a certificate for one Trudy Mockbee. That isn't murder. It's fraud. It's forgery. They might have to face jail terms—"

MAN MEETS "BABE" AGAIN

MANY YEARS AGO, I nearly did fall, for a beautiful babe ... a shapely doll. She had me hooked ... I was gone, she worked as a stylist ... at a Beauty Salon. And so we had many ... exciting dates, in that large city to the United States.

MAKE A DATE to see these brand new davenports at only $55.00.

I WAS EMPLOYED in a furniture store, sat at a desk on the upper main floor. I didn't do any actual work, 'cause a flunkie was employed the carpets to jerk. I just sauntered about, all over the place in a dignified manner ... shot-off-my-face. Then made a sale, if sufficiently impressed, then sat down at my desk.

YOU ... come and sit down in THIS Chesterfield . . . it's custom-built in wine mohair . . . you'll love it.

ANYHOO ... let's get back and have a look, at my babe ... who loved to cook. In her apartment, small as you'll find, so tiny you couldn't ... change your mind. At first I was lonely, a little shy, but I soon grew to love ... her lemon pie. And the way she looked a rainy Sunday, with her slinky housecoat with red appli-kay.

RED SEATS and trim are on this slightly used dinette suite . . only $80 . . . beautiful birch veneer.

TIME MARCHED ON ... we acted the clown till one day her mother ... blew into town. 'Babe' was excited (was over 5 years she'd left home ... and Mamma's tears. She kept telling me, over and over again, as we went together ... down to the train. "Your goona L-O-V-E Mamma," as my arm she did seize, "cause we're alike ... as 2 little peas." Then we saw her, and 'Baby' ran, gushes and tears spread on each pan. Well ... maybe ONCE . . they were peas in a pod but that was way back ... on the Prairie sod 'Cause Mamma now was fat and round, and her hefty ankles went smack in the ground.

60 Lbs. of ice will go into this $17.95 box . . . that's the delivered price . . . anywhere.

SO ... after this . . . from 'Babe' I did shy, and seldom anymore . . . ate her lemon pie. 'Cause I could see, 'twas plain as a door, "COMING EVENTS CAST THEIR SHADOWS BEFORE." And I didn't want her Mamma-type wife, so the curvacious 'Babe' ... went outa my life. The other day, a "dream" came into our store, "May I help you," I sed, as she paused by the door. She coyed up at me, a quizzicute look, "why B-A-B-E?" I sed, and dropped my sales book. "GOSH . . it's been Y-E-A-R-S . . . let me see, must 'ave been 20 . . . since U and me." She was still the same, only a little mature, her figger was purr-fect . . the same all-ure.

The figure for THIS portable "Admiral" radio is only $59.95 in a lovely leather case.

WE talked of this . . . reminiscined of that, and under her chin, I detected . . . NO FAT. Then came the time, for her to leave she held me gently by the sleeve. "Oh," I sed, "you gotta be goin," her teeth still perfect ... all her owin. And as she stood there, fit as a fiddle, she thumbed me gently ... in the middle. Then in that voice, that ONCE was mine, "Mmmmmmmum . . . you should take better care . . . OF THAT OLD WAISTLINE."

Water Lease To Saanich Gets Approval

Permission for the city to lease the Elk Lake water system to Saanich if it is needed was given by City Council yesterday on recommendation of the city's water committee.

Ald. P N Cabeldu, committee chairman, said Saanich would assume the maintenance cost and pay the city $1,000 a year for the water.

He said any lease will not be signed until a $323,000 water distribution system by-law for Brentwood is passed.

Leasing of the Elk Lake system was made possible when the Department of Transport recently agreed to turn over the system to the city.

Youngsters Hold Circus To Aid Fund

Nine-year-old Diana Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Parsons, 916 Island Road, heard a lot about the British Columbia flood relief fund.

She wanted to help those whose homes and personal belongings had been swept away by the rivers.

With the assistance of her older sister, Janet, Diana rounded up the neighborhood gang. Plans were made for a garden circus, complete with trimmings.

There were games and refreshments—and a sign on the garden gate explaining to all invited neighbors that there would be a small charge of ten cents admission.

Result? Everyone had a good time, and the flood relief fund was boosted by $9.

Others taking part in the garden circus were Carol Jones, Sally Gardom, Jane Lee, Heather Pope, Paul Rothe, and Betty Lewis.

Refer Request To Inspector

Request of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council for the city to appoint a man to guard against short weights being given fuel consumers was referred by City Council yesterday to the Dominion inspector of fair weights and measures.

"We have no power to do more than we are doing," Mayor Percy E. George said.

Council was told that only power the city has is being exercised, to rule that every fuel truck carry a measurement of its load on the side and check on the measurements.

The mayor said he had heard several complaints of short measures being given householders but presumed that the fuel had been delivered, not inspected at the time by the consumer, and then later found to be short.

Tax Complaints To Be Heard By New Board

Complaints regarding the base for school taxation will be heard by the new assessment equalization board in the order in which they are recieved, Education Minister W. T Straith said yesterday.

Headed by D K Kennedy of Victoria, the board was set up to iron out inequalities in assessments for school taxes created when the Cameron legislation drastically altered school district boundaries throughout the province.

The board will probably go first to the Fraser Valley and then to Salmon Arm, Mr. Straith said.

Job Drive for Older Veterans Going Well, W. H. Molson States

"We've been able to place a reasonable number of men and everything seems to be going quite well," W. Hobart Molson, honorary commandant of the Victoria Corps of Commissionaires, said last night. He was commenting on the intensive campaign being conducted to place older veterans in jobs in the city.

Mr. Molson said an appreciable [illegible] bers of the Corps, had been found jobs as watchmen, janitors, elevator operators and messengers in Victoria.

"City employees are beginning to appreciate the corps men," he said.

The Victoria drive is being sponsored by the local office of the Department of Veterans' Affairs. It was launched early in May as part of a Dominion-wide campaign to find permanent jobs for older veterans.

S. H Okell, assistant district administrator of D.V.A., said full cooperation of his office is still being given the Corps of Commissionaires in the campaign.

L. A Rees, veterans' officer of the National Employment Service, and A. W. Tugwell, D.V.A. occupational counselor, are continuing to make personal visits to Victoria employers in an attempt to influence them in hiring older veterans.

See Record Crop Of B.C. Peaches

Largest peach crop in history is predicted by the Provincial Department of Agriculture. More than 98 per cent will be harvested in the Okanagan Valley, where the crop is estimated at 1,968,380 crates as against 1,895,141 last year.

Main reason for the increase is the increased acreage coming into production this year.

Ride Ends In Court For Youth

A ride on a stolen motorcycle, begun when four friends joked about ownership of the machine, ended in police court yesterday.

A charge of taking the motorcycle without the owner's consent, laid against a young man, was dismissed by Magistrate H. C. Hall, who said he could find no criminal intent on the part of the accused.

The accused said he met four friends at a cafe. One of the friends said he owned a motorcycle parked outside and gave permission for the youth to take a ride.

Sgt. Walter Andrews saw the accused riding the motorcycle downtown "in a very erratic manner," apprehended him, and took him to the police station after the youth appeared nervous under questioning.

The owner of the vehicle, who told the court yesterday he had given no one permission for a ride, had reported the machine stolen.

People Have Poured into B.C. ...

One reason why it's hard to meet the Telephone Demand

Offsetting our efforts to give telephone service to all people who want it, the demand for service has been greater than ever before —largely due to B.C.'s record population growth.

People have poured into B.C. in recent years. The province's population increased more than 27 per cent during the six years from 1941 to 1947.

However, despite continued shortages of equipment and material, we haven't been marking time. The years 1946 and 1947 were, of course, record years for telephone installations, and 1948 also promises to show a large increase in telephones.

Haddad to Work for Olympics At Halifax Naval Training Base

Stores Assistant Eddie Haddad, Royal Canadian Navy, Canadian amateur lightweight boxing champion from Esquimalt and No. 1 man on Canada's Olympic boxing team will arrive in Halifax shortly for boxing training under naval auspices in the H.M.C.S. Stadacona training base.

He will leave Halifax for London and the 1948 Olympic Games on July 15 aboard the liner Aquitania. His coach and second, Leading Seaman Gordon Grayston, will join Haddad in Halifax, but Olympic officials have not yet decided whether Grayston will be permitted to go to London.

The 20-year-old navy battler won his Dominion title and the opportunity to represent Canada at the Olympic Games this Summer during the two-day combined Dominion championship bouts and Olympic trials in Montreal on May 27 and 28. Haddad was named outstanding champion of the tournament and was the first man chosen for the Olympic team.

Selection of Haddad for the Canadian boxing team climaxes a brilliant career in the ring. Before joining the R.C.N. in June, 1946, he won the Manitoba lightweight championship. The following year while serving in Victoria, he punched his way to the top in his class in both the British Columbia Golden Gloves contests and the Pacific Northwest championships.

He was named Golden Boy for the year, and repeated his performance this year, winning the British Columbia championship in Vancouver in February and taking top honors in the P.N.W. meet held shortly afterwards in Seattle. In March he was an easy victor in the [illegible] championships at Vancouver.

An added honor this year was the award to Haddad of the Sid Thomas Memorial Trophy, presented annually to the outstanding amateur athlete of Greater Victoria.

Born and educated in Winnipeg Haddad received his early boxing training with the Y.M.C.A. and the C.N.R. Athletic Club there. His impressive ring record—38 consecutive victories—makes him one of the most outstanding lightweight boxers ever developed in Canada.

Boon-Greco Sign

MONTREAL, July 5 (CP).—Matchmaker Raoul Godbout announced today that Eric Boon, British welterweight titleholder, and Johnny Greco of Montreal, Canadian champion, have been signed for a bout with the British Empire welter title at stake.

Date for the bout has been tentatively set for August 3, probably at the Montreal Forum.

Stepfather Runs To Surprise Win

INGLEWOOD, Calif, July 5 (AP).—Stepfather scored a surprise victory in the $50,000 American Handicap at Hollywood Park before 52,634 fans today. The Vancouver-owned Mafosta finished up the track.

Autocrat was second in a photo finish, and the heavily favored On Trust was third. Time for the mile and one-eighth distance was 1.50 2-5.

Artillery and Mafosta set the early pace. On Trust, with Johnny Longden aboard, took the lead at the far turn and Stepfather, ridden by Gene Pederson, came up with a rush in the final strides to win.

Stepfather paid $22.10, $9 and $3.60; Autocrat, $6.80 and $3, and On Trust, $2.20.

SYDNEY, Australia (CP).—First samples of Australian-made stainless steel table knives were received by the Australian retail trade recently. Australia has previously relied upon imported stainless steel from Sheffield, England.

Official Saves Day for Dodds

MILWAUKEE, July 5 (AP).—A kind-hearted official with a ready pencil was credited — indirectly — today with Gil Dodds' victory in the 1,500-metre run of the National A.A.U. track meet, Saturday.

The man who saved the day is Al Post, New Jersey A.A.U. president, serving as clerk of course at Marquette Stadium.

Dodds, it was disclosed, showed up [illegible] the required competitor's number pinned to his jersey. One official noted the omission and told Dodds he couldn't run. The "Flying Parson" stepped meekly off the track, commenting "Don't hold up the race for me."

It was then Post came to the rescue. He scribbled a number on Dodds' back with his pencil and the Wheaton speedster nearly ran the field into the ground, winning in 3:52.1 to qualify for final United States Olympic trials at Evanston this week-end.

REGISTRATIONS DOWN

VANCOUVER, July 5 (CP).—University of British Columbia today reported decreased registrations in its Summer School sessions over last year. With 500 late-comers admitted today the total stood at 1,550 against 1947's 1,781 students. The 1948 total is expected to reach 1,600.

Sport Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP).—A guy probably could be blackballed from the sports writers' fraternity for failing to write a fourth of July baseball column, but how can you figure the races now? For a while it looked like anybody's race (except the Dodgers) in the National League and a one-sided affair in the American. Now at the mid-season turning point, Boston Braves seem to be pulling away with the Cardinals as their most serious pursuers, while the Indians, Athletics and Yankees [illegible] . . . Strictly on guesswork, we'd say the Cards and Yanks have the best chances of holding up to the finish because of their better balance of offensive and defensive strength. If Feller makes a real comeback, Cleveland will be right in there, too.

BUM GAG

When the Dodgers turned up the other day with three catchers in their line-up — Roy Campanella catching, Gil Hodges on first and Bruce Edwards on third — Bob (Herald-Tribune) Cooke relayed this query from a fan: "That means they're in the hands of the receivers, doesn't it?" . . . Sal Tosato, 236-pound Washington Redskins fullback, pursued an off-season hobby of making seashell novelties. Since Sal lives in Williamsport, Pa., 100 miles from the sea, his shells sound fishy.

DOT'S ALL, BROTHERS

When the Yanks' Johnny Lindell noticed he was trailing Ted Williams in the All-Star team balloting, he cracked: "I hope Ted makes it. I'd like to go fishing."

The Eastern Trust Company of Halifax, N.S., requires information regarding the present whereabouts of George E. Murray, Master Mariner, whose address in 1924 was 1416 Point Street, Fairfield, Victoria, B.C. Any information supplied will be appreciated.

Northwest Seattle Rocked by Blast; Two Known Dead

One Man Hurt, Three Missing In Explosion at Vitamin Plant

SEATTLE, July 6 (CP).—A bomb-like blast that rocked Northwest Seattle's Ballard district demolished the Lyle Branchflower Co. vitamin plant just after closing time tonight, killed two men, injured one and left three or more missing.

Coroner John P. Brill, Jr., said first estimates that some 35 workmen were in the plant when the explosion came at 5.35 p.m. (P.D.T.) apparently were in error.

Allan Turer, a plant official, said 40 or 50 workers had left the structure at the end of the 5 p.m. shift.

Brill identified one of the dead as John Zeigler and the other—tentatively—as Roland Sheldon, both employees at the plant. The bodies, found outside the plant, gate, were burned beyond recognition.

The blast was heard and felt from four to five miles from the Northwest Seattle community. Plate glass windows in Ballard stores were shattered. The Ballard Bridge, crossing the Lake Washington ship canal some 10 feet from the plant, was covered with broken glass the deck is 60 feet above the ground level.

Six thousand gallons of an explosive solvent were stored in the structure and an hour after the flames were quelled police were holding the crowds well back in case of a possible second blast.

ONE MAN SURVIVOR

Fire swept over the wreckage in the wake of the explosion.

Dirk Verhagen, chief chemist at the vitamin extracting and rendering plant, said he had just stepped from the building. He had noted only one man still inside, he said, but others may have been elsewhere in the structure.

Smoke from flaming halibut liver oil piled hundreds of feet into the air.

Jack Johnson, living across the street from the plant, said:

"I thought a bomb had dropped in my front yard. It knocked me and my four youngsters out of our chairs."

HOUSE CAVED IN

A large piece of concrete was hurled from one wall of the building, ricocheted off the bridge and flew another 20 yards to cave in the side of Johnson's house.

Truck Driver John Thomas, crossing the bridge, said there was "a great concussion, then an ear-splitting roar. I saw smoke and flames shoot about 100 feet into the air. My three-ton truck was lifted clear off the street. A hole was blown in the cab over my head."

The injured man was identified as Walter Lanphier. An ambulance driver who took him to hospital said he picked Lanphier up 1,000 feet from the plant. Lanphier was reported in critical condition from severe burns and a fractured arm.

Firemen had the flames under control half an hour after the explosion.

Members To Get Expenses, No Pay

At the last special session in 1946, members received an indemnity of $260.

This time they will be permitted to collect only their out - of - pocket expenses for travelling, meals and accommodation and meals. Each member, it is reported, will be required to submit an expense account.

Two Unions Now Plan Rail Strike

MONTREAL, July 6 (CP).—The Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.C.L.) today decided to join 16 international brotherhoods in a country-wide rail strike July 13 unless their wage dispute with the railroads is settled satisfactorily.

The strike threat by the 28,000-member Canadian union came after a break appeared in the deadlock between the railways and the 122,000 members of the international brotherhoods.

Both unions have served notice of a walkout at 6 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time, July 13, but the international brotherhoods have also announced direct negotiations with the companies after nearly a week of mediation attempts.

Like the international brotherhoods, which set their strike date a week ago, the C.B.R.E. left the door open for further attempts at settlement.

Lead Winter both groups asked for a general 30-cents-an-hour wage increase. Conciliation boards in majority reports recommended seven cent bonus, minority reports calling for 20 cents.

A strike by both groups of unions would tie up rail transportation across the country.

Crisis Nearing in Berlin As Russia Tightens Knot

BERLIN, July 6 (CP).—The Russians stopped the truck export of food and other essential commodities to Western Berlin from the Russian sector today, Western-licensed newspapers reported.

This action apparently steered the Berlin crisis toward a climax. It came as Britain, the United States and France lodged a strong protest with Moscow against the Soviet land blockade of Western Berlin.

And it coincided with a French Foreign Office report that it had received from the British Embassy documentary evidence of a Russian plot to drive the Western Allies from Berlin. The Americans took no extra precautions.

The Russians, in another of their long series of protests, charged the Americans with violating flying safety rules.

The Russian-licensed news agency ADN said a new protest was sent to American authorities by the Russian section of the Berlin air centre.

"The Americans by their unilateral violation of rules for control of flying traffic," the protest said, "take full responsibility for the safety of American planes."

Western Berlin's air lifeline to the West was interrupted today by bad weather, but by noon the air over the city again was grumbling with the sound of incoming planes ferrying essential supplies from Western Germany.

The Western-licensed German news agency said the Russians clamped strict controls on trucks entering Berlin's beleaguered Western sectors, administered by the Western Powers.

Acting Police Chief Seidel of the Soviet sector ordered the police to inspect the load of every truck heading for Western Berlin from the Russian sector, the press said. He ordered confiscation of foodstuffs, building materials and telephone equipment.

WASHINGTON, July 6 (NANA).—Romanian diplomat escorted today a vast Russian scheme to annex the Balkans was behind the rift between Marshal Tito and Soviet Russia.

Dr. Charles A. Sevin, former Romanian Ambassador, said that Tito's "secret worship" Information the Russians intended to take over not only Yugoslavia, but Romania, Bulgaria and other nations in the Balkan bloc.

TITO AMBITIOUS

"Tito is a nationalist and a highly ambitious fellow. He wants to be independent of Russia," Sevin said. But the Soviet occupation of his country and the other smaller Balkan countries is inevitable," Davila said.

The former Ambassador, one of the leaders of the Romanian group in exile here, declared in an interview that the Kremlin was now applying pressure on Bucharest to make way for an annexation comparable to Russian annexation of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

"The Soviets have a mania for dates," Davila said. "My information is they would like to set up Romania as a puppet Soviet republic on the anniversary of the country's 1944 split with the Nazis."

The one time Romanian Ambassador said he did not know whether Tito's "secret worship" delay or expedite the Soviet annexation. But he was certain Tito was opposed to it and was doing his best to block it.

However, the fact the Soviets were moving the provisional capital of the Cominform from Belgrade to Bucharest would seem to indicate the Russians were deferring their annexation move for fear of inciting a war they don't want, he said.

In any event, Dr. Davila declared he was certain Russia would take over Romania first when it started the annexation drive. Romania, he declared, was the Soviet gateway into Eastern Europe and the channel of communications to the other satellites.

ROMANIA "COLONY"

"Romania is already an economic colony of the U.S.S.R.," he said. "It wouldn't take much to make it a total colony."

Dr. Davila also apparently believes that formation of a three-nation Balkan — Yugoslavia, Albania, Bulgaria — would forestall the annexation move and force Andrei Zhdanov, head of the Cominform, to change his plans.

Davila said Tito had appealed directly to Premier Stalin because he realizes that it is Zhdanov who is pushing the annexation plan. This last-minute Tito move may prevent Russia from annexing Albania, Bulgaria — should he overrule his politburo lieutenant, he said.

Huge Drug Seizure Made in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, July 6 (CP).—A huge narcotic ring linked with Ontario was believed to have been cracked wide open tonight with the seizure of Mexican brown heroin worth $40,000.

The R.C.M.P. and Vancouver police, working under cover for almost a month, said the heroin seizure was the largest ever made in Canada.

Known addicts in this coast city, cut off from their supply, now are believed to be desperate and taking chances to secure narcotics.

Vancouver in previous days was an opium city and Oriental ships were constantly under surveillance. The R.C.M.P. said tonight the startling narcotic traffic had fallen off.

Last Fall, a $4,000,000 opium cache was seized from a Dutch ship, the Manoeran, in north Vancouver harbor. The haul contained 272 pounds of pure opium.

The seizure announced tonight followed a month's extensive undercover operations of an eager Vancouver Black Maria driver, Constable Joe Cotter.

He tipped the R.C.M.P. narcotic detail and, in subsequent combined operations, 12 "Mounties" and five city policemen staged a sensational investigation which reached Ra. Ottawa headquarters.

Ronald Douglas Dean, 34, of Timmins, has been arrested and charged with possession of narcotics. He was arrested by the R.C.M.P. when a package addressed to him arrived from Mexico. Police said 25 ounces of pure heroin capsules.

An R.C.M.P. official told The Canadian Press the Mexican brown heroin is being fed addicts through a huge narcotic ring that operates between Mexico, New York and Eastern Canada.

He said the shipments are moved through New York "in a thousand different ways" and seep into Canada through an Eastern border pocket.

A second man arrested and charged with possession is William Kushnir, 32, a Vancouver mechanic. He was apprehended when he appeared at an East End home to claim the Oshawa package addressed to Dean.

The R.C.M.P. said each ounce of heroin averages 480 grains. One grain fills a gelatin capsule which sells for $12 to addicts.

Will Spend $1,250,000 For Repairs

Reconstruction of flood-damaged roads and bridges will cost the Government $1,250,000, Works Minister E. C. Carson said yesterday.

One of the big jobs will be replacement of the slips for the Agassiz-Rosedale ferry which were washed away to the flood.

The department has had to reorganize its entire works program throughout the province in order to take care of flood damage.

As a result, it is expected that some of the work planned for this year will remain unfinished.

The 18-mile stretch of Island Highway from the south side of Duncan toward Ladysmith was among the worst scheduled to be started early this year. Indications are now that the work will not be completed for a few weeks yet, if at all, this year.

Britain Signs Agreement For U.S. Aid

LONDON, July 6 (CP).—Britain signed an economic co-operation agreement with the United States tonight, an hour after Parliament approved the treaty.

Under the agreement, signed by Foreign Minister Bevin for Britain and Ambassador Lewis Douglas for the United States, Britain will receive about $1,200,000,000 during the first year of the Marshall Plan program.

The House of Commons voted 400 to 12 to accept the treaty, introduced by the Labor Government and not opposed by Conservative leaders.

The 12 votes against came from a few Conservative members, who fear that the treaty endangered British ties with the Empire, and a handful of extreme Left-Wingers.

The House of Lords already has approved the bill.

Harold Wilson, President of the Board of Trade, who spoke for the Government, took issue with Left Wing critics who said Britain should look to the East.

Aged French in Pension Protest

Soviet Authority Defied By Czecho-Slovakians As Well As Yugoslavia

Tito Given Hard Reply

By WILLIAM L. PHILLIPS

LONDON, July 7 (Wednesday) (CP). — Premier Marshal Tito's Yugoslav Communists got two hard answers early today to their defiance of the nine-nation Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform).

Russia's Communist Party said it has rejected an invitation to send a delegation to the Yugoslav Communist Congress opening in Belgrade July 21.

The announcement was made here just before midnight through Tass, Russian news agency, and the Moscow radio.

An hour later, Tass reported Little Albania defied Yugoslav warnings that she must resume economic relations with her former engineer or face the consequences.

The Yugoslav Communist party placed itself "outside the family of Communist parties," the Russian communique said, by its refusal to attend a cominform meeting to Romania last month. At that meeting, other members of the nine-country cominform discussed Tito's alleged deviations from the Marxist line.

YUGOSLAVS "OUT"

The cominform's original blast against Tito and the Yugoslav Communist party said the Yugoslavs, by their actions, had placed themselves "outside the family of the brotherly Communist parties." The cominform called on the "healthy forces" within the Yugoslav party to force party leaders to mend their ways. If that fails, the cominform said, the leaders should be replaced.

Since then, Tito's party has nonetheless maintained its position and kept up a running fire of reports of support for Tito from Communist elements within Yugoslavia and from its diplomats abroad.

The Yugoslav party's two latest moves were an appeal to Prime Minister Stalin, over the head of the cominform, to help it back to a high place in the Communist world and an invitation, again ignoring the cominform, for delegations of foreign Communist parties to attend the Yugoslav party congress.

Albania Protests Borders

LONDON, July 7 (Wednesday) (CP). —Tass, Russian news agency, said today a dispatch from Tirana, Albania, party today that Albania is taking strong measures on the frontier with Yugoslavia and Greece to prevent the crossing of hostile elements."

Tass quoted an Albanian Telegraph Agency dispatch it said was published tonight in the Tirana newspaper Bashkimi.

Presumably the "strong measures" to guard the frontier were taken as a result of Yugoslav charges against its little neighbor Communist country which has sided with the Cominform in the Yugoslav dispute with other Communist parties.

Tass' message from Tirana said the newspaper Bashkimi published the following report July 6.

"According to information received from reliable sources, the Albanian Telegraph Agency has learned the Government of the Albanian People's Republic has taken strong measures on the frontier with Yugoslavia and Greece in order to prevent the crossing of hostile elements attempting to cross onto Albanian territory for spying and provocative purposes, against the interest of the country and the Albanian people."

20 Arrests In Prague

By SYDNEY BROOKES

PRAGUE, July 6 (Reuters) — Demonstrations against the Communist - dominated Czecho - Slovak Government broke out in Wenceslas Square tonight and a number of arrests were made by security police.

There was no official confirmation of the number of arrests but eyewitnesses estimated that by midnight between 100 and 200 persons had been taken away for detention and interrogation.

Demonstrations against the Government had been going on since the Sokol (athletic) organization festival began earlier today Police made the arrests when they moved into the square shortly before midnight.

The demonstrations never had taken a very positive form. The Sokols had been shouting slogans extolling Thomas Masaryk, founder of the republic, and Ex-President Eduard Benes. To their shouts the great crowds joining the Sokol parades and demonstrations responded with enthusiasm.

Cheers for Yugoslavia and Marshal Tito rang out and American flags appeared.

I saw about 20 arrests. Other eyewitnesses could only say there had been many arrests and that "it was very bad."

VIOLENCE USED

In one case some violence was used.

It was not possible to judge on what grounds some of the detained persons were arrested.

The authorities until tonight had appeared to be turning a deaf ear to the Sokols' display of flags and some political feeling.

Newspapers today United States officials displayed intense interest in the demonstrations.

Albanian Telegraph Agency has learned the Government of the Albanian People's Republic has taken strong measures on the frontier with Yugoslavia and Greece in order to prevent the crossing of hostile elements attempting to cross onto Albanian territory for spying and provocative purposes, against the interest of the country and the Albanian people."

Peace Talks to Continue Amid New Israel Fighting

TEL AVIV, Israel, July 6 (CP).—The main Tel Aviv-Haifa Highway was blocked tonight by a heavy battle between Jewish and Arab troops. The clash occurred as Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator visited Israel from Cairo to Cairo to an attempt to extend the precarious Palestine truce.

The Israeli Government earlier today turned down the County Partition peace proposals as the Arabs did a week ago. He promptly announced he would continue talks even if fighting is resumed.

The United Nations mediator made this statement on arrival here from Cairo from Tel Aviv, where he was asked by the Israeli Government to "reconsider" his plan for ending Arab-Jewish warfare

At Tel Aviv, Bernadotte had received from Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharrett a 1,000-word reply to his proposal to turn Jerusalem into a free city, make Haifa a free port, and suspend immigration.

The reply expressed emphatic opposition to any resurrection on immigration.

At a Tel Aviv conference, Bernadotte said he did not know whether the Jews and Arabs would agree to extend the Holy Land truce but added: "I have a feeling the doors are open."

The four-week truce ends Friday. Neither Jew nor Arab has complied to his bid for an extension, asked by the Israeli Government to but the Jews may tomorrow.

Members Stage Caucus On Eve of Flood Session

Coalition members of the Legislature yesterday were in caucus for more than five hours in preparation for the special session beginning at 3 p.m. today.

Government policy on flood rehabilitation will be indicated today by the Premier Byron I. Johnson, Chief Justice Gordon McGregor Sloan, and by at least three bills to be presented to the House.

Premier Byron I. Johnson will make a statement outlining the allocation created by the flood and the action taken to date in dealing with the disaster.

Opposition Leader Harold Winch has agreed to dispense with the usual debate on the Throne Speech. It has also been agreed that the session will be confined to flood business.

After presentation of bills today the House is expected to adjourn without debate. A full-fledged discussion of the whole flood issue will take place when the sitting resumes on Thursday, however.

Present plans call for three sittings a day, with the House winding up the flood business by Friday evening.
